Much construction blocked—contractor

This area would have had more more apartments, homes, shopping areas and retirement areas, worth in excess of $16 million, constructed from 1969 through 1971 if James Green and Jim Green Construction Co. had not had credit frozen in 1969, Green said during Friday's testimony in court in Granite City.

Green is suing the Alton Telegraph Printing Co. and two former reporters for the Alton Telegraph for a total of $15 million, alleging that a memo the reporters sent to the U.S. Department of Justice led to his credit being halted by Piasa Federal Savings and Loan in Alton and to the construction projects he had underway being stopped.

The suit contends that as a result of the memo, which alleged Green was receiving Mafia money from Piasa, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board ordered Piasa to halt loans to Green and the sudden stop in construction led to the collapse of his multi-million dollar building empire.

Green was called to the stand Friday by his attorney, Rex Carr, who questioned him about his specific losses on projects underway which could not be completed after his credit was halted.

The losses will be important in proving Green's contention that he suffered at least $5 million in actual losses, it was indicated. He also seeks $10 million in punitive damages from the newspaper and its reporters.

Green said that when he was constructing the Gaslight Walk Apartments at Pontoon Beach, he was able to construct only about 400 of the more than 800 apartments which were

Half century of Cub Scouting here

By MICK STRANGE

Fifty years of Cub Scouting are being celebrated with varied activities and one of the highlights will occur Thursday, July 17, when veteran Cub Scout leader Dr. Harry Epstein will be honored.

He is the oldest living former cubmaster in the Cahokia Mound Council.

Special recognition will be made at Edwardsville Township Park at the conclusion of the 1980 Cub Day Camp.

It was 40 years ago when he became cubmaster of the pack sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church of Granite City.

He was active with Boy Scout Troop 5 before the Cub program came into existence.

At nearly age 90 (his birthday is June 5), Dr. Epstein still attends many district and council Scout functions and remains registered as a district member at large in the Boy Scouts of America.

He moved to Granite City in 1918 from Canada and was for many years a practicing optometrist.

Dr. Epstein received the Silver Beaver, the highest award a council may bestow on a volunteer leader, in 1964.

Although he is being honored for his Cub Scout activities in the early 1930s, he has served the youth of this area in many other Scouting positions, including: Council Health and Safety Committee chairman, District Camping and Activities Committee chairman, troop committee member, institutional representative, and Cub pack committee member.

He has been involved in many other civic activities, including the YMCA board and United Way drives, and was a leader in the B'nai B'rith for several years.

The Cub Scout program for eight, nine and ten-year-olds encompasses many facets of a young boy's life. It seeks to influence character building and spiritual growth, and good

Coke oven, blast furnace shutdowns

National Steel Corporation said Friday at Pittsburgh that its incoming order rate for steel is down sharply, reflecting not only slower demand from the automotive and housing sectors, but from a broad base of other markets as well.

However, orders for tin mill products from the container industry and for hot-rolled products from the oil country goods market remain at good levels. Meanwhile, repair shutdowns are scheduled here June 7.

Currently, National Steel has over 3,000 steel division employees (800 at Granite City Steel) on temporary or indefinite layoff, with about two-thirds of the 3,000 total located at the Great Lakes Steel Division near Detroit.

Three of the corporation's ten blast furnaces at its steel plants have been shut down, and the remaining seven are operating at reduced rates.

Further curtailments in operations, resulting in additional layoffs, are likely unless the order situation improves soon, National Steel spokesman said.

The layoffs are described as a direct result of the general decline in demand throughout the economy, resulting from the current recession coupled with high levels of imports of foreign steel and foreign cars.

In addition, high interest rates have forced customers to trim severely their inventories of steel and finished goods, National Steel said.

In line with reduced operating rates, capital spending has been reduced by about 20 percent, and cost-reduction efforts have been intensified.

The 800 cutback here is from a 4,600 employment base.

While a 3,800 level has been reached at Granite City Steel, it is believed likely to increase soon. The layoffs are temporary in nature, and the amount varies from week to week.

Based on the volume of orders for steel, local steelmaking hiring and layoff decisions are made within each

Common sense approach urged

A "common sense" approach to property assessment review is being urged by James Barton, Madison County supervisor of assessments, who was exonerated—along with the Board of Review—in last week's grand jury report.

Barton said he hopes state legislation can be enacted to permit issuance of Certificates of Error to remedy errors of judgment as well as mathematical mistakes in computing real estate assessments for tax purposes.

Calling for a "whole new set of laws," the official agreed with the jury's finding that existing assessing laws create confusion. "These are things our state assessment officials' association has been saying for years," he commented.

Following is the May 7 report of the Madison County Grand Jury entitled "Review of Madison County Tax Assessment Program".

"Based upon the filing of the extensive report of the Department of Law Enforcement, Division of Criminal Investigation, State of Illinois, which was duly presented and so filed, and the appropriate oral testimony of witnesses concerning this investigation.

Diane Biason wins voting for Student Senate

Diane E. Biason, 2125 St. Clair Ave., has been elected to the Student Senate of Eastern Illinois University, Charleston.

A 1979 graduate of Granite City High School South, she received a majority of the vote in the residence hall district to become one of nine campus senators from that district.

The Student Senate is the legislative branch of student government at Eastern and is responsible to the student body for various activities and allocation of student fees.

Miss Biason, a freshman business management major, was appointed to the Performing and Visual Arts Board in February 1980. She has also attended a student higher education conference at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale for EIU.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Biason of Granite City.

Child hurt in crash

Sandra Garris, 4, of 3403 Kirkpatrick Homes, was injured when an auto in which she was a passenger was involved in an accident at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

The child was in the southeastbound auto of Donald Garris, 4406 Kirkpatrick Homes, when the auto of Katherine Walker, 2110 Delmar Ave., left the shopping center onto Nameoki Road, colliding with the Garris auto.

The child was taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where she was treated for minor injuries and was released.

Kicks auto; is arrested

Robert A. Sleska, 22, of 3849 John Glen Drive, Pontoon Beach, was arrested at 2:30 a.m. Saturday and was charged with destruction of property.

Vernon Korte, Highland, said he had a disagreement with Sleska in the Basille Lounge and when Korte and three of his friends left the lounge, Sleska allegedly followed them to Korte's car, then tore off the radio antenna and kicked the right front fender of the car.

Sleska was caught as he was about to drive out of a parking lot. He was released on $100 cash bond at 3:45 a.m. Saturday.

Canal workshop here tomorrow

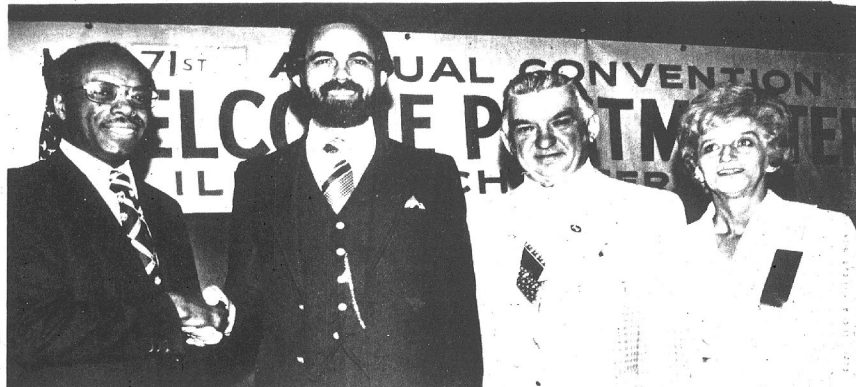

A public workshop concerning the Cahokia Canal Area Study has been scheduled by the St. Louis District, Army Corps of Engineers, at Granite City High School North Tuesday at 6:30 p.m.

Purpose is to provide information to the public on the current status of the study and to obtain public reaction on various measures and alternatives which could be used for solving drainage problems.

The Hartford Canal-Cahokia Canal study is part of planning for multi-million-dollar regional drainage installations proposed in Madison and St. Clair counties.

TRUCK IS STOLEN
The $4,500 pickup truck of Susan Sardigal, Rural Route Two, Box 946, Granite City, was stolen from the 4900 block of Kirkpatrick Homes between 11 p.m. Thursday and 8:50 a.m. Friday. The truck is a maroon 1977 three-quarter ton GMC pickup truck with a horse mural on the back window.

Officer Asperger is to be honored

Madison Patrolman Richard Asperger, 23, is to be honored by the Human Services Department of Southern Illinois University Edwardsville for scholastic excellence.

At 3 p.m. Sunday, May 18, in the Meridian Ballroom at SIUE he will receive the Esther Ott Estes Award in Human Services.

Asperger has maintained a grade point average in his major of 5.0 (A). He finished work on his bachelor degree in human services March 15, specializing in the study of juvenile delinquents in addition to other police related courses.

Officer Asperger joined the Madison police force on May 15, 1979. Prior to that he worked for the police as a dispatcher in the radio room. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Asperger, 1608 Kennedy Drive. He graduated in 1975 from Assumption High School and

3 face multiple charges

Three persons were arrested after a disturbance on the parking lot of Keith's Lounge, 2711 Street and Washington Avenue, at 2 a.m. Friday after police allegedly scuffling with the three while attempting to quell the disturbance.

Police were told there was a fight on the lot and as a squad car approached, one vehicle left at a high rate of speed. It was stopped at 28th Street and Washington Avenue and the occupants said someone had pointed a gun at them, so they had left rapidly.

They were asked to return to the parking lot until it could be determined what had happened and they complied. Police quickly restored order on the lot and were questioning those present to attempt to find a gun when Carrie J. Varner, 17, of 2716 Harding Blvd., allegedly walked over to another man and struck his mouth with a wooden shoe.

Patrolman David Rosenberg grabbed her arm, but she allegedly struggled with him and swung her arms at him. While he was attempting to subdue her, Ronald L. Lyerla, 20, of 2742 Washington Ave., allegedly interceded and struck Rosenberg in the chest with a fist.

Two officers used force to subdue Lyerla and handcuff him. During the struggle, he was struck on the head and suffered a cut to his scalp, police said.

He was placed in a squad car and attempts to place Miss Varner in custody resumed, it was related. During this time, Fernando A. Narvaez, 27, of 1001 Greenwood St., Madison, was allegedly yelling and attempting to get at the police officers, but his friends were restraining him, according to official reports.

Miss Varner tried to get into her car, yelling and swinging at the officers, but was handcuffed and placed in a squad car, the officers reported.

Narvaez allegedly refused to stop yelling profanities at the officers. Lyerla was booked for battery, obstructing a police officer, resisting arrest and contributing to the delinquency of a minor and he was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where he was treated for the cut to his head and then was returned to jail.

Miss Varner was charged with battery, resisting arrest and violating curfew and was released on $375 cash bond at 4:30 a.m. Friday. Narvaez was charged with disorderly conduct and obstructing police and was lodged.

Smith producing some auto frames

Supervisory and salaried employees of the A.O. Smith plant are working in assembly operations to produce station wagon frames for General Motors cars, it was learned by the Press-Record today.

A plant spokesman said production of station wagon frames only was resumed last week to meet orders on hand so that the station wagon production jobs would not be lost permanently to the auto frames plant.

The A.O. Smith plant has been on strike since April 8 when 650 United Auto Workers left their jobs to enforce demands for a new work agreement. Production work had been shut down since that time.

The spokesman declined to discuss details of the assembly work, concerning the extent of operations and

Guilty of contributing to teens' delinquency

James S. Coffman, 40, of 708 Meadow Lane Drive, Mitchell, pleaded guilty May 1 after he was asked by county detectives to appear, records show.

The defendant was described as regularly employed, a factor taken into account in deciding whether to order a recognizance (signature) or monetary bond.

CASH, STAMPS TAKEN

About $450 in cash and $100 worth of food stamps were stolen from the home of Charles Rutter, 2025 Dewey Ave., between 8:30 a.m. and 3:15 p.m. Thursday. A hole was torn in a screen and the window was lifted open to gain entry. Also missing are four bottles of valium pills.

Judge Filcoff said Friday a pre-sentence study will be made. After it is completed in about 30 days, a date for the sentencing will be set.

The minors were described as girls about 13 and 14 years old.

Teacher's lungs collapsed

The autopsy report into the cause of death of Paul L. Skalcius, 42, Troy, who was an English teacher at Granite City High School South, has indicated he died suddenly May 3 when his lungs collapsed as he was lifting weights in the basement of his home.

Evidence indicates that Mr. Skalcius was bench pressing nearly 600 pounds when his lungs ruptured under the strain of the weights, causing the air to rush out, according to Dr. William Drake, pathologist, who conducted the autopsy.

Mr. Skalcius then suffocated. "The weights fell across his neck and head, leading authorities to initially believe he died from the weights striking him.

Madison County Deputy Coroner Jim Laughlin, who is conducting the inquiry into the death, said Mr. Skalcius was rushed to Oliver C. Anderson Hospital in Maryville, but was pronounced dead upon arrival.

Friends said Mr. Skalcius frequently lifted weights and was knowledgeable about exercising with weights, Laughlin said.

BURGLARY ON ADAMS

A $50 gold watch was taken from a desk and some women's jewelry was stolen from a bedroom at the home of Lawrence Ritchie, 2332 Adams St., between 1 p.m. Wednesday and 1:50 p.m. Thursday. A window was broken to gain entry.

"thoughtfulness, always"

Forgery alleged.

Paula S. Beck, 24, of 700 Old Alton Road, Mitchell, who also uses the name Paula Summers, according to authorities, surrendered to Granite City police at 1:55 p.m. Wednesday on a felony warrant.

The warrant, from Marion County, Mo., alleges forgery. She initially declined to waive extradition and authorities in Hannibal, Mo., began extradition proceedings.

At 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, however, she agreed to waive extradition and was held for Missouri authorities.

THE REV. DICKSON BEALL, assistant pastor at St. Paul United Church of Christ in Belleville, assumed the post of campus minister at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on May 1. Beall will be part of the ecumenical ministry at the Religious Center at the University.

Air is cleaner except for exhaust from autos

(Illinois Lung Association)

The air most of us breathe is getting cleaner, but there's a long way to go. Levels of sulfur dioxide, dirt, smoke, and carbon monoxide went down in the 1970s. But the dilemma is the automobile, and during the decade there was a 30 percent increase in vehicle miles traveled.

According to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, 21 states need auto inspection and maintenance programs to help improve the quality of their air. Many states already have laws that mandate such programs.

To promote so-called I-M programs nationwide, the Illinois Lung Association sponsored Clean Air Week

May 4 to 10. The state lung association urges owners to have regular car checkups.

Even though levels of some pollutants are going down, the picture in certain areas is frightening. For two out of every three days, the air was labeled "unhealthy" in New York and Los Angeles in 1977, the last year for which complete data are available. Almost eight percent of the nation's population lives in these two metropolitan areas.

One of the delayed dangers of air pollution is the creation of acid rain, which affects not only drinking water but lakes that support fish and other life. During the last 25 years, the amount of acid in the rain falling on the northeastern part of the U.S.

and Canada has increased fiftyfold.

Some of the most severe water pollution problems are also occurring along the coasts and in the wetlands, which are especially sensitive to damage from industrial sources and human sewage.

Such pollution has forced the closing of more than one-third of the country's 14 million acres of commercial shellfishing waters.

To join the fight for cleaner air, Quad-Cityans may contact their local Lung Association, Lewis and Clark — the Christmas Seal people — and get a checkup for their car in observance of Clean Air Week. It's a matter of life and breath.

Senior Olympics this weekend

The Senior Olympics, to be held May 14-15 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, were discussed at the meeting last week of the More the Merrier club.

The meeting was opened by the president, Grace Paddock, and the invocation was said by Chaplain Ruby Corbett.

Older American Day will be held May 16 at the Firemen's Hall in Collinsville. Festivities will begin at 10 a.m., with booths, a talent show, music and dancing. It was announced.

Birthdays were celebrated by Della Rabb, John Winkelmeyer, who was the oldest member present, Art Lindner and John Baker. Refreshments were served and games were played. Prizes went to Jennie Moody, Jessie Chase, Alice Price, Minnie Kuschmitt, Bill Niepert and Lester Thiele.

EVANGELISTS. Gary and Claudia Galley from Garrison, N.Y., will be guest speakers at the Community Heights Assembly of God Church, Faith and Buxton avenues, Sunday, May 18, at 7 p.m., according to Rev. Jeffrey Smith, host pastor.

Tina is waiting

(Department of Children and Family Services)

Tina has been waiting a long time for someone to visit her during her stay in a children's home.

She has had some emotional problems due to her insecure past, but has improved due to treatment received in the children's home. She will be placed in a foster home when the right family is found for her.

Tina is 12, and has short brown hair and blue eyes. She is active and friendly and likes to talk and joke with her pals at the home.

Her interests are dolls and books. She spends a lot of time alone now because she has no one to come and see her during the home's regular visiting hours.

Tina needs a family willing to drive to St. Louis on occasion to see her, and who will make plans with her for holidays and special days — with the idea of taking her home when she is ready to be released.

She must have strong, stable people with lots of patience who will be sympathetic to her needs.

If you would like to establish visits with Tina and discuss with us the possibility of being her family of the future, you may call Shirley, 876-8980, Illinois Department of Children and Family Services.

Rabies clinic set May 20

The Madison County Rabies Control Department will offer a rabies control clinic Tuesday, May 20, from 6 to 7 p.m. at the Chouteau Township Highway Department garage on North Thorngate Drive, Mitchell, behind the Midwest Motel.

In addition to rabies inoculations, the veterinarian will have distemper vaccine available. Rabies shots will be $6 per animal and the distemper inoculation will cost an additional $8.

Chouteau Township Supervisor Walter "Dek" Sparks said numerous cases of rabies have been diagnosed recently in Illinois and Missouri and encouraged all pet owners in the area to have their dogs and cats immunized.

GC church to view film

Gary and Claudia Galley, Assemblies of God representatives for the Walter Hoving Home for Girls in Garrison, N.Y., will be appearing at the Community Heights Assembly of God Church, at Faith and Buxton avenues, on May 18 at 7 p.m.

They are appearing in conjunction with a film showing of John Benton's best-seller "Cindy." The full color motion picture will be shown free and Pastor Jeffrey Smith, host minister, invites the public to attend.

Rev. Galley, a graduate of Southwestern Assemblies of God College in Wexahachie, Texas, is an ordained minister.

The movie was filmed on location in New York City, and expresses the grief and torment of an addicted young mother who has to give up her daughter because of her habit, Rev. Smith explained.

Organ Society enrolls new members

The Metro-East Organ Society held its May meeting at the National School of Music with twelve members and two guests present. Frank David, president, conducted a business meeting.

Honorary members were discussed and the group voted to welcome owners of the music establishments, where meetings are held, to the club as honorary members.

Burl Schmeisser, owner of the National School of Music, spoke to the group telling of some of his experiences in the music field. He also demonstrated many features of the newest Hammond organ. A number of the members present also tried out the new organ.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Frances David, Loreta Siegel, Bea Black, Wilma Cooper, Carolyn Stearns, Mary Hartman, Barbara Williams, Dorothy Alsop, Elizabeth Novacek and to Fred Johnson and Howard Austin. Guests present were Mesdames Celeste Johnson and Thelma Murday.

The June meeting will be a potluck dinner on Sunday, June 1, at the home of Mary Hartman in Collinsville, it was announced.

City opposes suit against steel firm

By GARY SCHNEIDER of the Press-Record

The Granite City Air Pollution Control Department intends to oppose a lawsuit filed by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency against Granite City Steel one week ago. The suit seeks a court order to force the steel company to cease operations of its newly constructed coke oven battery.

The IEPA filed suit for an injunction because, it said, Granite City Steel had not yet obtained a permit to operate the rebuilt coke oven. Paula Case, pollution control engineer for the city's APC board, disagreed Friday with the move.

"There is some book work that needs to be done, but I do not think that is a main priority," she said, adding, "We, and the Air Pollution Control Board, feel an injunction would be detrimental to any gains made, to date, in the ongoing negotiations with Granite City Steel and two other National Steel Corp. plants to reduce air pollution."

"The ongoing negotiations are covering most areas at the steel mills," she added.

A hearing on the injunction request is set for 9:30 a.m. Thursday in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville. Mrs. Case said she has not yet decided whether she will appear at that hearing.

She explained, "I understand the state's point of view, that Granite City Steel has failed to meet several obligations, primarily in the area of bookkeeping (applying for permits). It is my understanding that the company felt it had some time left for troubleshooting before it needed the permit. She explained that the state is in charge of granting and enforcing permits, and the city does not get involved in that process."

"We are not a party to the agreement they have, but it is against our better judgment to agree with the state at this time."

"We were asked to sign Omissions of verification for the injunction, since we are providers of a great deal of their information, but I concurred with the city's pollution control board and we decided not to do that at this time."

"Granite City Steel has achieved better control of emissions there in recent years and we believe they are trying to work toward that goal."

"We certainly feel it is more necessary to pursue areas which really need more control, rather than dealing with a source (the new coke ovens) which is controlling most of its emissions at this time. We don't feel that an injunction is the way to solve it," she summarized.

A company spokesman said Thursday that the suit apparently does not complain of any pollution, but rather that GC Steel allegedly failed to apply for a permit at the appropriate time.

The spokesman did not concede that there was a violation regarding timeliness. And he said the coke ovens are regarded as relatively free of inappropriate emissions.

Another company official called the basis of the suit a "complicated" matter in the process of evaluating legal and environmental ramifications before formally responding to the suit.

JEWELRY IS TAKEN

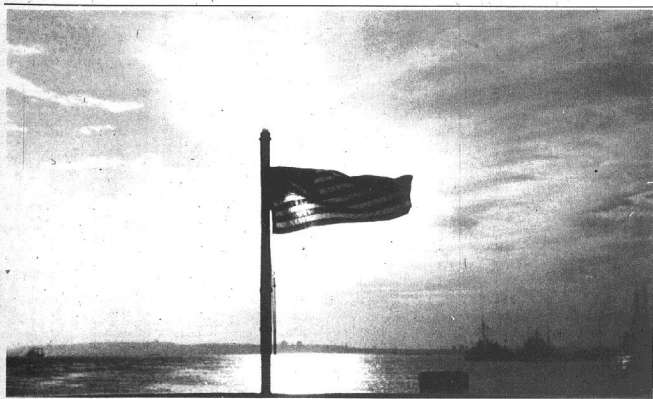

A man's ring, a woman's wristwatch, a gold tacket, a set of pilot's gold wings and a clock radio are known missing after a burglary last week at the home of Mildred Moss, 2873 Washington Ave. A window in a door was broken, and another door was left standing open when the burglars left. The house was ransacked. Blood in several areas indicated the burglar may have cut himself.

"This Grand Jury does hereby return a No True Bill as to criminality in the Madison County tax assessment program and procedures as to Supervisor of Assessments James Barton, past members of the Board of Review, namely Gilbert Heil, Andrew Citchoff and Robert Coallas, and the present members of the Board of Review, namely Robert Harris, Fred Finck and Terryl Francis.

"But the report and testimony presented to this Grand Jury has established the improper use of Certificates of Error in lowering assessments, though said lowering of assessments was probably necessary based upon the investigation conducted.

"But the use of a Certificate of Error was an improper procedure for such, in that this would be a judgment situation rather than an error as to which a Certificate of Error could be used properly.

"This Grand Jury recognizes that the improper use of a Certificate of Error for the lowering of assessments which are based upon value judgments is a procedure and process used in many counties throughout the State of Illinois.

"And this improper use of the Certificate of Error is no longer available in Madison County, pursuant to instructions from the state's attorney to the supervisor of assessments and the Board of Review.

"It is recognized that the statutes which apply to assessments and the use of Certificates of Error are confusing both to the taxpayers, taxing officials and legal authorities.

"And there exists legislative confusion as to the interpretation and application of the Assessments Statutes as to the proper use of the Certificates of Error.

"It is further recognized that another change in the procedures in Madison County should result in some avoidance of confusion by the fact that the use of a Certificate of Error must be reviewed by an appropriate court before said Certificate of Error may be effective in Madison County, Ill.

"Continued review of the assessment procedures in the County of Madison—and the enforcement of the opinion of the state's attorney's office to the supervisor of assessments and the Board of Review—should avoid many of the problems which have been revealed in the investigation of the use of Certificates of Error.

"But it is recognized that there still remains a very confusing system for the use of the taxpayer who wishes to appeal an unjust or over-assessment, pursuant to some type of simplified system.

"If a taxpayer receives an unjust assessment for one reason or another, there should be an easy way of affording the taxpayer relief, legally, through a procedure like the use of the Certificates of Error, which would be reviewed by a certain chain of authority.

"At present, there is a confusion as to the authority, whether it be initial authority or reviewing authority, of the various assessing bodies as compared to each other.

"There should be legislation establishing four levels of authority, and further establish the appropriate lines of communication.

"The local township assessor would be the first level, whereby his purpose would be to actively assess the properties and provide the supervisor of assessments with their books on a timely basis.

"And they would have a direct responsibility to the supervisor of assessments.

"Appropriate authority must be provided to the supervisor of assessments to enforce the assessment rules, regulations and statutes as to local township assessors.

"In that there are many small townships without the financial resources to provide full-time assessors, a solution may be the combination of smaller townships as to assessments and—rather than the election of township assessors—the appointment of township assessors that have been certified by examination.

"Thereby, the supervisor of assessments would be the second line of authority.

"And then the third line of authority would be the County Board of Review, which would oversee and supervise the supervisor of assessments as to all actions and procedures.

"The highest level of authority would be the State Board of Appeals as to the final review or action deemed necessary in a particular case.

"These levels of authority could be made available to the taxpayer for a review in all situations for the taxpayer, as to a complaint as to an unjust assessment.

"In addition, there should be a legislative change in procedure whereby any change in assessment by any of the assessment officials should be a permanent change in assessment—rather than the situation where there were changes in assessments by Certificates of Error which were effective only for the year of the certificate and, in fact, the assessment would return to the assessment value which was changed after that year.

"The procedure should provide for notices as to all local assessment of officials as to any change in assessment.

"And there should be notices to the taxpayer of any changed assessment and notice of a right to a hearing.

"It is recognized that local governmental bodies must receive tax revenues to operate, but the system must be fair, equitable, open and available to each and every taxpayer, which is not the case pursuant to the present statutes.

"It is further felt that with the establishment of a clear chain of authority as above-proposed, this would result in a more effective supervision, review and policing of actions between the various assessment levels, rather than the ineffective policing and supervision between these bodies as existed in the past.

"Duly adopted and respectfully submitted by the Grand Jury this seventh day of May, A.D., 1980.

"Russell Lockridge, foreman."

department each week, resulting in a fluctuation in the total number of jobs plantwide, it was explained.

A spokesman at Granite City Steel said that, with a coke oven battery newly rebuilt, shutdowns are planned June 7 at the B and C batteries.

Coke oven rebuilding decisions take into account, among other factors, current environmental requirements, the spokesman said.

Rebuilding of the B coke oven battery is expected to begin soon after it is shut down, but no timetable has been set for the C battery.

Also scheduled for June 7 is a shutdown of the A blast furnace for relining. The B blast furnace was relined and then returned to operation in early 1980.

Healthy state fund balance

Despite a 16.2 percent increase in state spending, the 1979-80 fiscal year continues to set new revenue records and the month-end available balance for April, $490 million, was the highest figure for that month in the history of the general funds or "checkbook" account, Comptroller Roland W. Burris has reported.

Burris said the month-end balances for each of the last 10 months were the highest in general funds history for that period, and topped the $500 million mark for seven of those 10 months.

Prior to FY 1980, the month-end balances exceeded the $500 million level only twice.

Comptroller Burris noted that the record revenue-setting pace would still be true even if the corporate personal property tax replacement transactions were factored or subtracted out of the month-end balances.

Currently, $62 million of the April month-end balance will be shifted to the corporate personal property replacement tax fund for local distribution in May 1980 or thereafter.

However, Burris said again, the state has a "reserve" of $136 million for five special funds and five debt service funds which he feels is available to the general funds for potential fiscal emergencies.

Counselors get leader posts

Two Granite City school counselors have been elected to leadership positions in the Lewis-Clark Chapter, Illinois Guidance and Personnel Association, for the 1980-81 academic year.

Mrs. Sonya Adkerson, counselor at Granite City High School South, will serve as publicity chairman, and editor of The Trek (newsletter).

Mrs. June Mills, counselor at GCIS North, will serve on the Program Committee.

Membership in the Lewis-Clark Chapter is open to counselors and counselor trainees in Madison, Bond, Jersey, Greene, Calhoun, Macoupin, St. Clair, and Montgomery counties.

School energy efficiency study

The energy efficiency of Granite City schools will be evaluated, it was decided at last week's board meeting. A proposal to hire Henry Gabriel and architect and Willard Given Engineers Associates as engineers for an energy survey of all of the district's buildings was questioned by Board Member David Partney, who asked if the survey is necessary and questioned whether the board should seek bids on the architectural and engineering services.

Ronald Landman, maintenance supervisor for the district, said he believes the district can get a grant covering about half of the $65,000 which will be needed for the surveys, which will be required when additional grants are sought to make the buildings more energy efficient.

Landman said that, with board approval, he will go to Springfield Thursday to obtain the grant application forms and complete them and said he expects announcement of the grants in late June or early July.

Once the survey is done, the district can apply for matching grants to improve the energy efficiency of the district's buildings and schools, he said. An energy survey also is a requirement before the school district can use life safety funds to improve the energy efficiency of the buildings, he added.

About $100,000 is received annually by the district from a five cent per $100 assessed valuation tax levy for life safety work. That money, in conjunction with matching federal money, could be used for energy conservation work, which would reduce the district's heating and cooling bills for years to come, Landman said.

Partney said he realizes that it probably is wise for the district to study energy conservation, but questioned whether the board should hire an architect and engineer without seeking bids from all interested engineers and architects.

Board Member Monroe Worthen said bidding "can also lose more than is gained." The architect chosen has come out time and time again, at no charge, when we have a problem in a building. If we start bidding, he may start charging us for these things."

Partney noted that the engineering and architectural work will be done for six cents per square foot, at a cost not to exceed $65,000, and contended he has heard of the same work being done for as low as four cents per square foot. "We could save quite a bit, even if we find an architect who charges one penny or one and one-half pennies less per square foot," he added.

Worthen responded, "Architects are busy. If you don't have someone you work with all the time, when you have an emergency, he may just be busy. I have faith in these people and don't feel right to have them do the legwork and turn around now and have it pulled out from under them."

Landman noted the federal government will approve studies of up to 12 cents per square foot and noted, "This is half of that."

Superintendent Davis added, "We negotiated this and recommend we award it in this way."

After the explanations, Board Member Robert Maxwell made the motion to award the architectural and engineering contract to Gabriel and Given and Partney seconded the motion, which was approved unanimously.

More fire hydrants

Installation of six additional fire hydrants in Granite City was authorized by the City Council last week.

The aldermen approved unanimously an ordinance that calls for new hydrants at six locations. They will be located at Bremen Avenue and Nameeki Road, at 2100 Monroe Ave., Iron and Carr streets, Miami Court at Cal de sac, at the end of Colgate Avenue and at the end of Wilson Park Lane.

The ordinance provided that the Illinois-American Water Co. be instructed to make the installations under terms of the city's franchise agreement with the water company.

In other actions, council members approved a recommendation by Victor Koenig, director-coordinator of the Emergency Services and Disaster Agency (Civil Defense) for salary revisions in the 1980-81 budget now being prepared by city finance officials.

Recommendations called for the salary changes to be retroactive to May 1, beginning of the city's fiscal year.

Council action revised the agency coordinator's salary from $280 per month for a 16-hour week to $480 per month for a 20-hour week. The revision involved no change in the pay rate, but only in the number of hours worked. Other changes are an increase for the assistant coordinator from $170 per month for an 8-hour week to $180 per month for the same number of hours, a rate increase of 5.88 percent; a change in the clerk typist salary from $280 per month for a 20-hour week to $300 per month for the same number of hours, a rate increase of 7.14 percent; and an increase for the janitor from $105 to $110 per month, a rate increase of 4.76 percent.

Senior citizens to attend fair

Elizabeth Malincheff and Bertha Motl celebrated birthdays at the meeting last week of the YMCA senior citizens.

Plans were made to attend a Senior Citizens Fair to be held at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Items are to be donated for sale, it was noted.

Guests at the meeting were the Rev. and Mrs. Carl Watkins and Jack Jenkins. Rev. Watkins read and discussed several passages from the Bible and Jenkins presented two songs.

Refreshments were served to 50 members and guests. Games and quilting followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Polley along with Mr. and Mrs. Al Reis, St. Louis, hosted a reunion of the 8th Cavalry Regiment at Holiday Inn, Edwardsville, over the weekend. The group enjoyed a bus tour of Grant's Farm and other historic St. Louis landmarks. Saturday night was spent on the Goldenrod Showboat.

Those in attendance included: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Galligan, Bay Village, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. John Gable, Losantville, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Basham, Roundhill, Ky., Forrest Chidester, South Bend, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ervin, Steelville, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. John Krashefski, East Northport, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Martin, Sheboygan, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Raffaelo, Milwaukee, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilkholm, Racine, Wis., Norman Hollenbeck and children Amy and Danny, Rockford, Ill.

Gil Hogue, Indianapolis, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Roy Horsley, Portsmouth, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Englehart, Champaign, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pankhouser, Rantoul, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Leland Schute, Lexington, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Oldenburg, Madison, Wis., Herb Junweilen, Oakbrook, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Schue, Appleton, Wis.

Phillip Moore, Boston, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Jim

Reminga, Grand Rapids, Mich., Joyce Trotter, Nashville, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Fuzz Charlton, Mounds, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Jones, Lawrenceville, Ga., Mr. and Mrs. Ken Kohrman, Owensville, Mo., Bob Cooper, Amarillo, Texas, President, First Cavalry Division Association. These men all served together during World War II in the Pacific.

In addition the group was also honored to have the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crouse, Urbana, Ill., who served with the 8th Cavalry during World War I. He arrived complete with his original uniform which he could still wear. Mr. Crouse was presented a trophy bearing a horse in honor of his past service and all Garry Owen soldiers.

VICTORY NO. 3,000. Dave Gall, aboard Ajayland, chalks up his 3,000th career horse racing win in a race this month at Fairmount Park on Collinsville Road. The 38-year-old jockey has been racing for 23 years.

Top U.S. jockey 'overnight success'—after 23 years

By JOHN SCULLY
Dave Gall attained one more milestone in his 23-year career this month when he rode his 3,000th winner. Gall, who was the nation's leading rider last year with 479 victories, joins an exclusive club of 26 other riders who have had 3,000 triumphs.

The big moment came in the fifth race aboard Floyd Schiffer's Ajayland. Dave took his mount to the front and never relinquished the lead, to the delight of many of the racing fans. The 38-year-old Canadian reinsman has been riding at Fairmount Park on a regular basis for the last 18 years. The last five years of Dave's career have been the most productive, as he was the leading jockey at Fairmount Park in four of the last five seasons. The only year that he lost was due to a broken shoulder, which kept him out of action for the final two months of the meet.

Even then he only lost on the final night to Billy Gammon, which shows what a tremendous lead he had until his accident.

Dave would like very much to win the national jockey title two straight years, to prove that last year was no fluke.

We, who see Dave ride nightly, know that it wasn't by chance that he won last year. But Dave feels he has to prove himself to the rest of the nation.

He had intended to ride at Waterford Park in West Virginia for the first three months of this year. However, those plans were dashed when he suffered a broken collarbone.

Coming into the Fairmount Park season, Dave had only five wins in 1980, which means he has a lot of ground to make up on the other riders who have been riding regularly throughout the winter.

Don't count Dave out, as he has the stamina and the mental toughness to ride ten races a night for the rest of the year. As determined as he is, he surely wouldn't bet against him.

Dave's total record through his 3,000 triumphs is as follows: 17 percent winners, with 46 percent in the money in his overall career.

In the past five years, he has ridden horses which have earned over $5,000,000, with $1,225,874 coming in 1979. Dave is averaging 17 percent winners, with 46 percent in the money in his overall career.

Being only 38 years of age, he should be able to ride another ten years without any problem, as Willie Shoemaker is 49 and is riding better than ever. So, in another three years, we may be celebrating Dave, Gall's 4,000 lifetime victory.

Local residents attend funeral

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Peterson of Granite City, accompanied by their children, Jada, Wayne Brian and David, have returned home after attending funeral services on April 30 of Mr. Peterson's mother in Minnesota.

His mother, Mrs. Hilda Peterson, 78, of Madison, Minn., died on April 26. Also attending the services were the Petersons' niece, Mrs. Debbie Wofford and daughter, Dara, of Granite City.

Miss Hartzel is awarded agricultural scholarship

Shelle D. Hartzel, 199 Cynthia Lane, has been awarded the Jonathan Baldwin Turner Agricultural Scholarship to the University of Illinois college of agriculture. The merit award, which includes a stipend and other honors and recognition from the college of agriculture, was presented on the basis of scholarly achievement, leadership and good citizenship. Recipients were chosen in a statewide competition, involving regional interviews and final selection by the college's Honor-Scholarship Committee.

The merit awards are named for Jonathan Baldwin Turner, a prominent nineteenth-century agriculturalist and educator who promoted the "land-grant" concept of higher education. Miss Hartzel has also received a General Assembly Scholarship to the University of Illinois, awarded by Sam W. Wolf, state representative from the 56th district.

She will pursue pre veterinary studies at the University of Illinois. A senior at Granite City North High School, she will graduate in June, 1980.

Ranking high in her graduating class, Miss Hartzel is a member of the National Honor Society. She has participated in many contests as a member of the mathematics team, and represented her school's science department at a Science Symposium.

Miss Hartzel has served as secretary of the Science Club and is a member of Masque and Gavel, and Children's Theater. She has been in several school dramatic productions and received second place in a recent letter writing contest conducted by the U.S. Postal Service.

Having owned horses since she was 12 years old, Miss Hartzel has shown her horses for the past four years and has won awards in Illinois and Missouri horse shows. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lile E. Hartzel, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dale Spice and Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. George Hartzel of Granite City.

College catalogs available

The Granite City Public Library, 2001 Delmar Ave., has purchased a collection of college catalogs, on microfiche to aid prospective students and others needing information on institutions of higher education.

The collection consists of 3,700 catalogs from over 2,900 two-year and four-year colleges in the United States.

Obtaining the catalogs on film rather than paper is viewed as advantageous by the library because it saves both shelf space and maintenance time.

All persons needing college catalogs are urged to go to the public library downtown and use its comprehensive collection. Jeanette Kamper, adult services librarian, comments.

2 zoning meetings this week

The Granite City Board of Appeals and Plan Commission will meet this week to discuss a total of five zoning requests.

The Board of Appeals will meet at 1:15 p.m. Wednesday to consider four requests for variances.

Jay Hutson, 3192 Jill Ave., is requesting to construct a garage two feet from the property line. Lee Davis, 2721 Sunset Drive, seeks to build a garage four feet from the property line.

Raymond Davis, 1640 Primrose Ave., plans to construct a carport 10 inches from the property line and Kevin Hoedbeck, 3270 Franklin Ave., would like to construct a garage five feet from the side property line.

One request for rezoning awaits the Plan Commission when it meets at 1:15 p.m. Thursday. Robert Huebner is requesting C-1 commercial zoning for property at 2609 and 2871 Madison Ave. for expansion of Heubner Hardware.

The properties are zoned R-3 for single-family residential use.

Nameoki School to observe 50th year

By DONNA HARTWICK of the Press-Record

Compiling historical data, collecting memorabilia for an exhibit and finalizing all arrangements for the 50th anniversary celebration of Nameoki School are tasks keeping all committee members busy this week, according to Mrs. June Branding, PTA president.

The long awaited event is scheduled for Friday, May 16, opening with a 1 p.m. parade followed by an afternoon and evening of entertainment, serious reminiscing, presentations, games and refreshments.

Mrs. Branding said, "All residents, teachers, pupils and parents as well as alumni and former teachers, PTA presidents and members are invited to join in the event."

The committee working on the background of the school and past activities noted that the Nameoki School District was merged into the Granite City Community School District in 1930. The name Nameoki is an Indian word meaning "smoky town," the president said.

Nameoki School has many firsts, including a hot lunch program started in 1942-43 with one cook hired and mothers assisting her in the preparation of food and dishwashing. In 1948, the hot lunch program began with financial help from the government.

Other firsts include the school organizing the first Parent-Teacher Association.

In the community. In 1951, the first Area PTA president was Mrs. Ross Nightwine, representing Nameoki School. Mrs. Branding, the current PTA president, is a daughter of the late Mrs. Nightwine.

Nameoki PTA has been an active unit throughout its 25-plus years, supporting the Girl and Boy Scouting programs. Some years before the advent of television, the PTA held a movie program each Friday night complete with a cartoon and full-length feature film.

Music has played an important part in the school functions. There were small operettas and a girls' chorus without the benefit of a music teacher until the parents paid a teacher to come to the school and help form a band.

After Nameoki was incorporated into the bigger Granite City School District, the school received its first regular music teacher and band membership was about 100.

Other programs the school sponsored in past years included a basketball team, uniformed drill teams, cheerleaders and an annual Halloween parade and party set around an outdoor bonfire, with all participants dressed in costumes.

The seventh and eighth grade program was transferred, with the final graduation of eighth graders in 1955. Students in those grades were enrolled at the new junior high schools.

Key conservation roles for area men

Donald L. Hastings Sr., Real Route 1, Thres, Edwardsville, newly appointed as acting chief of the Division of Law Enforcement for the Illinois Conservation Department, with headquarters in Springfield, is well known in the Quad-Cities.

The appointment, effective May 1, followed the resignation of former Chief William Brey.

Hastings, a native of Madison County, began his career with the Department of Conservation in November 1962 and served in the Madison County area as a conservation officer until 1972.

In 1972, he was appointed assistant to then Chief Bill Miller and later became assistant to Chief Brey in the Springfield headquarters. In 1976, Hastings returned to the Madison County area and since that time has been Region IV commander of 25 counties in Southwestern Illinois, headquartered in Chester, with headquarters in Alto.

In his new position, he will supervise over 150 Conservation Law Enforcement officers throughout the state, enforcing all aspects of the conservation laws.

Thomas Wakolinger of Glen Carbon, also in Madison County, replaced Hastings as the conservation officer in this county. He has been promoted to the rank of sergeant and was named supervisor of District 10 in the area of Springfield, effective May 1. He will be relocating to the Springfield area in the near future.

Conservation Officer, Wayne Keaven, formerly assigned to Macoupin County, has been transferred to District 13 and will reside in Highland, replacing Wakolinger. Keaven is a native of Highland.

BPW members attend state convention

Thirty-five Granite City area women attended the State Convention of Illinois Business and Professional Women at the Chase-Park Plaza Hotel in St. Louis.

The Granite City Club received honors in foundation involvement, in financing and in programming. The awards were received by President Lavelle Stephens, Foundation Chairman Rose Ezell, Finance Chairman Wilma Large and Program Chairman Sharold Yount.

Over 800 members of the Illinois Federation attended the four-day convention to elect new officers for 1980-81 and establish legislative programs for the coming year.

State President Wilma Harpole presided over the business sessions. Jeri Libner, national second vice-president, brought greetings and news from the National Federation in Washington.

Maureen Reagan, an avid campaigner for the passage of the Equal Rights Amendment, presented the keynote address at the Saturday night banquet.

Miss Reagan is the daughter of former California governor and now presidential candidate Ronald Reagan.

A special highlight of the evening was the installation ceremony of 1980-81 state officers. Colleen Forry of Rockford was installed as the new state federation president.

A board of directors meeting preceded the convention with state officers, standing committee chairman, special committee chairman and their guests in attendance. Those attending from the Granite City club were Annellen Smith, state first vice-president and Rosalee Stern, member of the State Foundation Committee. Others attending the convention from Granite City were President Lavelle Stephens, immediate past-president Lois Writton, Carolyn Frye, Wilma Large, Ruth Nicholas, Ollie Derr, Norma Skoklo, Sylvia Wright, Vera Lengel, Lela Gunning, Betty Roberts, Paula Case, Sharold Yount, Emily Alford, Melba Greer, Rose Ezell, Pauline Wier, Ruth Walk, Ruth Mihouser, Gladys Newman, Edna Kohlrecker, Anna Mae Gates, Hazel Rollins, Diane Capps, Helene Bischof, Betty Nugent, Elsie Elmore, Dolores Allen, Norma Mendoza, Lorewne Sadrakula, Rose Yates, Janet Davinroy and Florence Moore.

Convention general chairman Sherry Hutchison of Mount Vernon termed the convention an "outstanding success," and "one more example of BPW's long history of 'women helping women.'"

DAV Auxiliary donates funds

A donation of $100 to the Jefferson Barracks Hospital for their 50th anniversary fund, was approved by members of the Disabled American Veteran's Auxiliary, last week.

Commander Lena Kalips presided at the session held at the DAV Hall.

She led a discussion on the annual state convention to be held in Springfield June 26 to 29.

Those named to serve the local auxiliary as delegates included Mrs. Kalips, Ruth Nunes, Harriet Kennerly, Pat Macke and June Scherger.

Rollettes fete Mrs. Gregory

Mrs. Judy Gregory was honored on her birthday last week by members of the Rollettes Club during a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Helen Warfield, 1745 Spring Ave.

Those excelling in the evening games and winning prizes were Diane Wilson, Billie Riedle, a guest and Jeanette Wilson.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to those mentioned and to Edith Wofford, Joyce Waller, Reatta Radeoff, and guests, Ann Warfield, Sally Whitehead and Vivian Warfield.

Thursday Evening Club May meeting

The May meeting of the Thursday Evening Bunco Club was held in the home of Mrs. Angie Hartman, 2300 State St.

Prizes were awarded for high scores to Luella Propes, Alice Koesterer, Angie Hartman and Lorraine Nelson, a guest.

Mrs. Hartman served a delicious luncheon from a table centered with a unique crocheted basket holding an arrangement of summer flowers.

Others present were Myrtle Bruns, Grace Parmley and Celeste Johnson who host the next meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Conley home from Hawaii

Mr. and Mrs. Don (Gerry) Conley, 2504 Northbridge, have returned home after attending a convention in Hawaii of the Reliable Life Insurance Co., with local offices in Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center.

Conley won the trip for top sales for the year with the insurance company where he also is a member of the President's Club and Olympic Club.

The couple was accompanied by other company personnel including Mr. and Mrs. George Mard of St. Louis, he is district manager of the Granite City office; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Goedelmann, Collinsville, staff manager; Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Baker, St. Louis, staff manager; Mr. and Mrs. Russ Hunt, Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Baker, St. Louis and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Louckes, Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Conley made a stop-over in San Francisco enroute home to visit Fisherman's Wharf and other points of interest in the California area.

Mrs. Griffith club hostess

The Past Matrons Club of Granite Chapter 850, Order of Eastern Star, met in the home of Hulda Griffith with 17 members and one guest present.

President Betty Ebrecht welcomed Dona Boyer, worthy matron of Granite Chapter, and thanked her for cooking and serving the Past Matrons annual dinner.

It was announced that the next meeting will be Saturday, June 7, with members meeting at 10:15 a.m. to go to the home of Blanche Leuchter.

A report was given on members who are ill.

Games were played and the following were awarded prizes: Betty McClintock, Dona Boyer, and Mary Ellen Lewis.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to Donna Kagy, Dorothy Watkins, Mary Bilbrey, Frances Williams, Hannah Klein, Virginia John, Arline Fox, Ida Cariss, Isabelle Deckman, Karmyn Edmonds, Clara Harbig, and those mentioned above.

Olympics for senior citizens

The Southwestern Illinois Area Agency on Aging in cooperation with the Illinois Department on Aging and other groups and agencies will hold the second Southwestern Illinois Regional Senior Olympics at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday. Admission for spectators is free and the public is being invited to attend.

Senior citizens — men and women age 55 or older — will compete in the following Olympic events: (May 14) 100 yard dash, horseshoes, discus, half-mile sprint bike race, shot put, basketball free throw, 100 yard dash standing long jump, bike race, mile run.

(May 15) 25 yard free style swim, 100 yard medley, 50 yard freestyle, 50 yard breaststroke, 200 yard freestyle swim, and bowling (3 games, high series).

Track and field events and bowling will be held on the SUE campus. Swimming events will be held at the Edwardsville YMCA.

Senior citizens may enter no more than five events on a single day and no more than seven events during the two days of the Senior Olympics.

Competitors will be grouped in the following age categories: 55-59, 60-64, 65-69, 70 and over.

The top three male and female finishers in each event in each age category will be awarded medals (gold, silver and bronze). Everyone who enters the Southwestern Illinois Regional Senior Olympics will receive a Senior Olympics patch.

The entry fee for in-region participants (persons residing within the counties of St. Clair, Madison, Monroe, Bond, Clinton, Randolph and Washington) is $3. The entry fee for all others is $4.

Due to limited seating capacity at the SUE track and field area, spectators are to bring folding lawn chairs if possible. In addition, spectators are invited to bring sack or picnic lunches. Lunch may also be bought at the SUE cafeteria.

Church symbols program topic

Church symbols was the topic of a program presented by Walmer Brummer, guest speaker, at a meeting last week of the Afternoon Guild of St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ.

During his presentation, Mr. Brummer, traced the history of church symbols and displayed symbols printed on covers of 22 annual reports distributed by the church in past years.

He also showed slides of the faceted windows of the sanctuary and explained the emblems on the windows.

Forty-one members and a guest were served a dessert luncheon preceding the meeting. Presiding at the business segment was Virginia McLeister, president.

Mrs. McLeister introduced a new member, Mrs. Anna Beinfuhr.

Hostesses for the day included Mesdames Carolyn Teaney, Helen Cape and Effie Davis. Blanche Schroeder offered the table prayer.

It's been a bad spring for fires in local area

Spring often seems to bring an increase in fires in the Quad-Cities, and the trend has been particularly evident this year.

Fire scenes in this community have included a warehouse, a church, a commercial building and numerous residences, occupied and unoccupied.

In the top left photograph, Odis Busby, 51, of 611 Barkley St., a Mitchell volunteer fireman, is aided after being placed on an automobile hood. He had suffered smoke inhalation while fighting a $20,000 blaze at the home of John E. Adams, 621 Margaret St., on the night of May 7.

At the top right, Busby is administered oxygen. He was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center later that evening. Both of the Mitchell pictures are Press-Record Photos by Ed Sedej.

At the left, Ted Berger sits amid charred merchandise and records inside the store May 7, conferring with employees after the previous night's disastrous burglary and arson at Ted's X-L Hardware Store, 1918 Delmar Ave.

In the photograph on the right is a fire-ravaged chair in the hardware store. Both of the pictures at the store are Press-Record Photos by Gary Schneider.

Citizens and weary firefighters are hopeful that the frequency of local fires will show a decrease soon.

Seminar on energy efficient equipment

Illinois Power Company's 1980 conference for business representatives on energy efficient equipment will be held Wednesday, May 14, on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The conference, entitled the 1980 Energy Efficient Equipment Conference (EIECON '80), will begin at 9:30 a.m. and end at 5 p.m. Wednesday in the University Center.

About 150 representatives of Illinois Power Company's industrial and commercial customers are expected to attend. They will be from the Belleville, Granite City, Hillsboro, Mt. Vernon and Sparta service areas.

The conference is part of the company's continuing customer education program and has two purposes.

It will help customers learn methods by which they can more efficiently utilize the gas and electricity they purchase from the company.

And the conference will bring together manufacturers of energy efficient equipment and these customers so that energy related problems and their solutions can be discussed.

Illinois Power Company Vice President Porter J. Womeldorf will open the conference with a welcome to the conferees, who will then be able to attend four seminar sessions featuring 24 technical presentations on material, equipment and concepts they may employ in their businesses to increase production, upgrade the quality of products, and lower energy costs.

Manufacturers of energy efficient equipment will have displays and samples of their products in an exhibit area, which will be open from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.

The seminar sessions, scheduled for 11:15 a.m., 1:15 p.m., 2:30 p.m. and 4 p.m., will address the following subjects:

Insulated replacement windows, in-plant gas metering, heat recovery from boiler condensate, heat treating electrically using the induction process, using a heat wheel for heat recovery.

Interior and exterior building lighting, insulating for people comfort, calculating an electric bill, demand control devices.

Air rotation and destratification, using a high pressure heat pump for recovering heat, air compressor economics, heat recovery from engine exhaust.

Thermal storage for heating, recovering heat from flue gases, economics of boiler renovation, boiler tube cleaning, liquid-liquid separation, energy efficient electric motors.

In-plant air cleaning devices, spray-in-place urethane insulation, high temperature insulation (to 2600 degrees F), boilers vs. steam generators, and heat recovery from low pressure exhaust systems.

This will be the fourth conference of its type sponsored by Illinois Power for customers in the northern and southern areas of its service territory.

Scout campout means survival

With sun shining, or even if it is raining, the Uniwah (Quad-Cities) Boy Scout Spring Camp-out is just around the corner.

The location will be at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 16, 17 and 18.

The theme is "wilderness survival". The Scouts will have several competitive events and will be judged on survival techniques.

A top award will be given to the "Top Survival Patrol".

The events are based on material contained in the Boy Scout Handbook, Scout Fieldbook and the Wilderness Survival Merit Badge Book.

Events will test skills in such areas as fire building; edible plants, first aid, survival shelter, cooking without utensils, finding your way at night, and silent signals to mention a few.

Persons wishing more detailed information may contact the Boy Scout Service Center, 2016 Delmar Ave., phone 876-0686.

Madison Band Concert Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Madison Middle School Band will present its spring concert on Tuesday, May 13, in the new Middle School gym at 7:30 p.m.

The band, made up of sixth through eighth grade students, will be under the direction of William F. Ledbetter, director of Instrumental Music in the Madison Schools.

Featured on the program will be a woodwind choir. Band students in the choir will include: Theresa Neal, Diana Kemp, Colleen Koeck, Katherine Bargiel, Tina Neal, John Nelson, Dennis Knuacha, Regina Banks, Michelle Leadlove.

Seventeen eighth grade students will be recognized for their years spent in the instrumental program and will be eligible to play in the senior high band.

The program will include: March Triumphant by James Ployhar, Forest Glen Overture by Robert Powers, Commando Overture by John Kinyon, Themes from the Polovetzian Dances by Borodin, Edel Weiss from The Sound of Music by Richard Rodgers, Chester, Revolutionary War Song by William Billings, Mack The Knife by Kurt Weill, Theme from Rocky by Bill Conti.

There is no admission charge, the director added.

"WE SERVICE WHAT WE SELL"

OUR HOSPITAL FAMILY CARING FOR YOUR FAMILY

Dear Friends:

In this, the Year of the Family, our hospital family has given special attention to providing services that promote keeping families together. We have initiated a Home Care program, so that with the help of our nurses, more patients might remain in their homes, instead of being hospitalized. Our Stroke Rehab Unit enables patients to reach their full potential despite their handicap so that they may return home and function without the need of constant professional care. Our Mobile Meals program has been expanded so that patients unable to prepare their own meals can enjoy mealtimes in their familiar home surroundings. When babies are born at SEMC, it is a family event; fathers, as well as mothers, are allowed to hold and feed the new arrival and brothers and sisters are allowed to visit. Also, we continue to support the work of the Hospice Program which provides support for the terminally ill and their families.

It all adds up to our appreciation of the importance of your family to you and to society as a whole. God bless you for your support of us not only in this past year, but over the years.

Gratefully,

Sister Mary Thomas, C.R.P.

SISTER MARY THOMAS C.D.P.
President

Besides quality health care for our family members, our hospital family and the families of the community share another concern. That is — the battle with inflation. Because the cost of basic expenses is such a topic of interest these days, we thought you might be interested in what we spend EACH DAY on some items familiar to you.

$40,341.00 per day for Salaries (47% of cost)
2,639.00 per day for Utilities
3,126.00 per day for Food
75.68 per day for Bread
206.13 per day for Milk
48.00 per day for Postage (116,560 letters per year)
300.00 per day for Telephone
1,474.00 per day for Repairs
1,634.00 per day for Blue Cross Insurance

The overall cost per day to operate the Medical Center is $85,768.

Question convention expenses

Granite City school board members David Partney and Robert Maxwell want the other board members and administrators who attended the National School Board Association's convention in San Francisco, Calif., April 19 to 23, to account for their expenditures.

At last week's school board meeting, Partney and Maxwell questioned checks of the educational fund bill list to Assistant Superintendent Frank Kraus, Board President Stephen Saltich and Board Member Donald Stucke for $500 each for advance convention expenses.

Saltich explained the advance was for taxicabs, meals and other expenses in San Francisco for three nights and covered the hotel room two of those nights. Unused money will be refunded to the district, he said.

Partney asked if the $500 each included air fare and was told it did not. He also was told that the night's motel charge was put on one of Kraus' credit cards and the bill will be turned in separately.

It was explained that the hotel "got the reservations messed up," and did not have a room for the three and two of their wives for the third night, so they went to a motel, where they took only two rooms, to save the district the expense of a third room. "I slept on the floor, but at the rate they were charging for rooms, I did not want to charge another room to the school district," Kraus said.

Partney stated, "I would like to see the expense vouchers before I approve this $500. I feel that if we approve this bill list, we give each a flat $500." Stucke responded, "If you don't approve it, you can vote no."

Saltich said vouchers and more bills will be coming, before the convention expenses are tallied.

Maxwell then said, "My question can wait until the bills are turned in and the expenses are filed. My concern was that $500 was a lot of money, not counting the motel bill or the air fare."

In other business at the school board meeting, the board met in private for an expulsion hearing on a student who stabbed another student in the Granite City High School North cafeteria. After meeting with the student, parents and witnesses, the board returned to public session and voted to expel the youth and refer him to Coordinated Youth Services for an alternative education program through the remainder of the school year.

Consider the bean

By CHRIS DOLL, Area Gardening Adviser

Beans are one of the easier vegetables to grow in the garden. They give a good return for the amount of effort required to grow them.

Beans like warm weather to grow well. They are easily nipped by frost also. The best time to plant is after all danger of frost is past and when the soil has warmed to 60 degrees F or more.

There are many kinds of edible beans grown in Southwestern Illinois. The most common is the bush bean, which includes green and wax types. These are alike except for pod color.

Bush beans branch out just above the ground, and grow to a height of 12 to 16 inches, depending on soil fertility and moisture. Pods are borne in clusters, and modern varieties tend to hold their pods well above the soil so they don't rot in wet weather.

Bush beans should yield about one pound of beans per foot of row. Thus, a 30-foot row should produce 30 pounds or about one bushel. It may require four to six pickings to harvest this many beans, and at that time, quality usually deteriorates.

Vigorous, productive plantings can be maintained by making new plantings every three weeks. It takes about 50 to 55 days from planting time to harvest.

In recent years, bean breeders have produced many bush bean varieties that are resistant to bean mosaic, a virus disease that can be transmitted by insects.

For this area, Astro, Contender, Tendergreen, Provider, Harvester and Blue Lake are suggested as green beans. Cherokee, Goldcrop and Kinghorn are the suggested wax varieties.

Bush lima beans grow slightly taller than bush snap bean varieties and spread wider. Short runners are occasionally seen.

Pods are borne on fruiting stems that stick up above the foliage.

Lima beans are heat resistant. They should give you weekly harvests for 45 to 60 days. Plant about eight feet of row per family member after the soil is warm. Where summer days and nights are warm, bush lima beans will mature in 65 to 75 days.

Varities for this area are Allgreen, Henderson Bush, Thorgreen, Fordhook 242 and Thaxter.

Pole beans are well adapted to small gardens because they can be grown vertically on a fence, trellis, or pole. They also produce over a long period of time if given good cultural care.

If a fence or trellis is absent, you can build your own structure. Poles are most commonly used to make a 3 or 4 legged structure—teepee style—with seeds planted at the base of each pole. The height of the structure depends on the length of the poles, but it should be 5 to 6 feet.

Kentucky Wonder is still a good pole bean variety, but it sometimes gets infected with rust disease.

All beans for snapping should be picked when the pods are young and succulent.

Lima beans harvested for green beans should be picked when the seeds are nearly full sized but before they turn white.

For dry beans, let the pods mature on the plants, but harvest them before the pods get so dry that they shatter.

Seek Family Support funding for county

An effort to obtain an expansion of funding for establishment of a Family Support Program in Madison County is being made by members of Parents for Special Education in Granite City, who will meet in Alton Wednesday with Joseph Gruber of the Region IV Illinois Department of Mental Health and Developmentally Disabled office, to discuss expansion of the program into Madison County.

Arrangements for the meeting followed a May 5 meeting in Belleville in which plans were discussed for retaining the program there. St. Clair County has had the Family Support Program for the past two years, but local mental health officials claim it has been unable to get full funding and may be forced to discontinue the program unless the situation eases.

Mrs. Melba Gruber of the Granite City Parents for Special Education organization, attended the St. Clair County meeting, along with Dorothy Rabon, Jean Fisher and Kay Hahn, all of Granite City, who also plan to attend the Alton session.

The program serves developmentally disabled children and adults. Under the program, patients do not have to travel to an agency or medical institution to receive treatment. Treatment is brought to them in their homes.

Mrs. Grady said Madison County never has had the program but that efforts are being made to interest legislators and state mental health officials in establishing the program in this county. She said the effort to set up a Madison County program is open to all parents of disabled persons.

The Alton meeting will be held at the State Hospital, 450 College Ave., at 2:30 p.m. Parents of Madison County disabled have been urged to attend the meeting to present input as to the need of such services. Mrs. Grady said,

With tax-paying time barely behind us it's already time for most of us to start thinking about next year's contribution to Uncle Sam. For self-employed people, whether business proprietors, doctors, dentists, lawyers, salesmen, etc., this means another round of quarterly payments based on estimated annual earnings.

This year, the quarterly payments are more important than before because the Internal Revenue Service has raised the interest penalty from six percent to twelve percent. Since these payments should include self-employment tax as well as estimated income tax, they can be distinctly unpleasant another round a year.

Financial analysts say the amount of self-employment tax paid this year (social security) will be more than 1000 percent higher than when the tax was instituted, less than thirty years ago.

If it will help your self-employment tax planning to establish a special account to provide for quarterly payments, check with any of our officers, we'll try to take some of the sting out... You Can BANK On It!

Let's Make Music theme of Cub 46

Homemade instruments, a hand combo and a quartet from the Collinsville Mississippi Valley Chorus highlighted the evening of Cub Scout Pack 46 of Nameoki School.

Members of the MVC barbershop quartet included George Chapman, Rich Pilech and Charlie McIlroy from Granite City and Roy Anderson of East St. Louis.

Their routine included a history of barbershop singing and a demonstration of the four parts using the song "My Wild Irish Rose." Committee Chairman Jane Isenbush presented each with a "Golden Note" award in appreciation of their performance.

Den Five Cub Scouts represented by Jeff Goode, Andy Smith and Richard Taylor sang "It's a Small World" and accompanied themselves with homemade castanets and kazooes.

Den One Cub Scouts Brad Choate, Greg Kobayashi and Stephen Lane gave their rendition of "Yankee Doodle."

Webelos Den Two performed two numbers in their five-piece band combo. Rusty Ebridge, saxophone, Brian Forbes, clarinet, Jeff Isenbush, bass clarinet, Mike Maier and David Painter, tuba, played their version of "Gonna Fly Now" and "I Got Rhythm."

Advancement chairman Sandy Smith presented the following awards: Brad Choate, silver arrow; Mark Fussell, three silver arrows; Mike Maier, artist and sportsman; David Lane, Brian Taylor and Joe Basarich all received Webelos badges.

Sign-up sheets for April activities included Stash the Trash day April 12 and the Lincoln Pilgrimage April 27 in Springfield.

Upcoming activities include the Webelos Troop 5 overnight campout, the sailboat regatta May 22, a bike rodeo in June and Cub Scout day camp in July.

"Let's Make Music" entertainment concluded with Den Three's refreshments served by Sally Basarich, Donna Lane and Ruth Taylor.

Art, design workshops

The SIUE department of art and design will offer a series of workshops on drawing, jewelry design, fiber, painting, sculpture and photography during the summer, according to Don Dye, chairman (692-4071).

Two of the workshops will be offered between the end of the spring quarter and the beginning of the summer quarter, June 9-14, for the convenience of working people able to give a week of vacation to classes—and for regular students who need to fit an extra class into their busy schedules.

A jewelry and design and metals workshop can be taken for three hours of academic credit for Jewelry and Design in Metals (Art 386a, b, c, or d-3) or Metalsmithing and Design (Art 418-3). Classes will meet on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 7:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. and from 1:30 until 5 p.m. during the week of June 9-14.

An investigation of casting techniques related to the creation of jewelry and small sculptural forms will be utilized. Five techniques, including sand casting, vacuum casting, steam casting, gravity and centrifugal casting, will be demonstrated and used to create bronze, silver, pewter and aluminum.

A fiber and fabric workshop will be offered for three hours of academic credit in Weaving and Design in Textiles (Art 384b-3), Research in Weaving in Textiles (Art 484-3), Textiles (Art 484-3), Research in Fiber (Art 500b-3), or Seminar in Weaving-Textiles (Art 485-3).

Classes for this workshop will meet on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 7:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. and from 1:30 until 5 p.m. June 9-14.

Students will explore pattern drafting for sculptural shapes, using applied design to enhance the sculpture. Dyes will be furnished, but students must provide fabric and stuffing.

A sculpture workshop will be offered June 16 through July 11, meeting on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 7:30 until 10:30 a.m.

Coursework will explore sculptural concepts with an emphasis on technical processes such as metal fabrication and casting and multi-material construction. Students can enroll in Sculpture (Art 383a, b, c, or d-3), Research in Sculpture (Art 402-3), or Research in Sculpture II (Art 500a-3) for academic credit.

A drawing workshop will be offered June 16 through July 11, meeting on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays from 7:30 until 10:30 a.m.

An intensive four-week session emphasizing development of technical abilities, content and approach to painting as they apply to the growth of the individual will be offered on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays from 7:30 until 10:30 a.m. from June 16 through July 11.

Students can enroll in Painting (Art 310a, b, c, or d-3) Section I, Research in Painting (Art 401-3) Section I, Graduate Painting (Art 501-3) Section I, Research in Painting II (Art 500d-3) Section I, or Studio in Painting (Art 503-3) Section I, for academic credit.

Students may enroll in Printmaking (Art 358a-3), Research in Printmaking II (Art 500b-3), or Graduate Printmaking (Art 511-3) for academic credit.

Students may enroll in Basic Still Photography (Art 302a, b, c, or d-3) for academic credit. Coursework will include basic still, black and white photography as an art form, along with darkroom experience. Students must provide their own cameras, light meters, film and paper.

A printmaking workshop will be offered Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 7:30 until 10:30 a.m. from July 14 through Aug. 8. Students will be introduced to problems in relief printmaking with an emphasis on monographs. Diverse plate materials, papers, fabrics and presses will be used.

Students can enroll in Printmaking (Art 358a-3), Research in Printmaking II (Art 500b-3), or Graduate Printmaking (Art 511-3) for academic credit.

Local students attend junior high convention

The Illinois Association of Junior High Student Councils held its state convention at the Madison Junior High School in Naperville, Ill. Delegations from Coolidge Junior High and Grigsby Junior High in Granite City, East Alton Junior High of East Alton and Westlin Junior High of Trenton, traveled together by bus. The group visited the Sears Tower and the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago. The convention sessions began at 7:30 p.m. that evening.

At the first general session, the guest speaker was Illinois State Representative Larry Bullock who spoke on the topic: "Help Wanted: A Builder of Mankind." The speech included some of his experiences in student council as a student and a former teacher. The group was then entertained by the Madison Junior High Chorus who sang songs having to do with the convention theme: "The Time Is Now."

Following the general session, district caucuses were held for the purpose of introducing the candidates for district representatives and hearing their campaign speeches.

Mike Robertson, son of Mr.

and Mrs. Greg Robertson, served as the Southwest District Representative during the year 1979-80. His duties at the convention were to conduct the business meetings during the district caucuses and to conduct part of the third general session on Saturday afternoon.

Miss Dorothy Hinson served as district advisor for the Southwest District to finish the year begun by James Swanick who died in December. Miss Hinson also served as a seminar leader on writing constitutions for student councils.

A dance and movie "Oh, God" were held for the students following the caucuses.

The guest speaker at the second general session was Phil Gugliuzza, executive secretary of the Louisiana Association of Student Councils.

Delegates then attended seminar meetings to discuss and exchange ideas on activities used in their schools. During the second district caucuses, district representatives were elected and installed. Southwest District's new representative is Susie Wehrenberg of the Waterloo Junior High Student Council.

The first year of a pilot program initiated by the vocational child care classes at Granite City High School South, called PUPS, ended last week with a mini-graduation of the participating three- and four-year-old children enrolled in the program.

PUPS (Parents Utilizing Pre-Kindergarten Skills) in 1979-80 has involved about 60 students in three classes at the school and nearly 80 children and their parents in a seven-month program.

The program is designed to help parents avoid possible child rearing problems and to give the high school students practical experience with children in preparation for child care related to jobs and also family life.

The 60 girls enrolled in the child care classes were rotated through three divisions of the PUPS program. They are: infants and toddlers, three- and four-year olds, and a parents' discussion group.

Approximately 35 infants and toddlers and 44 children in the older age group participated in the program and each child, was accompanied each day by at least one parent.

The parents and children attended the classes three days each week, and the 60 girls were divided and rotated on a schedule.

The PUPS program is regarded by officials as especially good preparation for children who are advancing to kindergarten the following year.

Each of the children was tested at the outset of the program and again at the end of the seven months and an average mental achievement growth of those in the older age category has been estimated at 1 1/2 to 2 years.

Instructors for the program include: Barbara Coleman, parent discussion group; Jean Nelson, infant-toddler group; and Cathy Riebold, three- and four-year-old group.

Practical experience for the parents, children and, most of all, the students was the primary goal of the program. After seven months of hard work and dedication, all agree, the goal has been realized.

R. T. SINGER

R. T. Singer joins Trust Bank here

Richard T. "Dick" Singer has joined the staff of Granite City Trust and Savings Bank as senior vice president, to head the bank's Business Development Division. Ernest A. Karandjeff, chairman and president of the bank, announced Friday.

He and his wife, Helen, have resided in Columbia, Ill., for the past five years. Their family consists of four children and 15 grandchildren.

Some CETA hiring frozen

The U. S. Department of Labor is notifying all prime sponsors under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) that hiring for public service jobs under Title VI of the act has been frozen.

The Labor Department said it is taking the action because under the president's proposed 1981 budget revisions, the number of public service employment Title VI openings has been reduced from the present 200,000 to 149,000 as of Sept. 30, 1980. In addition, the president proposes to defer $203 million of 1980 budget authority to 1981.

The Title VI enrollment as of March 31 was 196,000; the April 25 hiring freeze designed to bring enrollment to the required 149,000 by Sept. 30 and, also, to effect the $203 million savings. The department plans to monitor Title VI enrollment levels monthly. Should the 149,000 target be reached before the end of the fiscal year, the department will consider lifting the hiring freeze.

Notices are being sent out to the 473 state and local government units which serve as prime sponsors by the 10 regional offices of the Labor Department's Employment and Training Administration, which administers CETA.

A separate counter-structural public service employment program under Title II of CETA is not affected.

The 58th annual grand session of the International Order of Job's Daughters was held at the Marriott Hotel, Chicago, attracting 1,200 Job's Daughters, Council members and parents.

Bethel 43 of Granite City was represented by 15 members accompanied by 10 adults.

Job's Daughters of Bethel 43 who attended were: Honored Queen Lea Ann Baker, Junior Past Honored Queen Gena Fox, Kathy Brozman, Teri Roberson, Jeanie Holt, Suzy Sandall, Cathy Sandall, Patty Crider, Theresa Laver, Sheri Ashall, Rhonda Baker, Susan Beasley, Laura Gantt, Susan Seilheimer and Becky Cooper.

Adults attending included: Mrs. Rebecca Slate, guardian of Bethel 43, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Love, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Baker, Mrs. Beth Fox, Mrs. Fran Holt, Mrs. Willetta Beasley, Mrs. Jane Ashall and Mrs. Sarah Metcalf.

Choir competition was held May 1 and Bethel 43 won a second place trophy in state competition. Those participating in the competition were: Lea Ann Baker, Kathy Brozman, Teri Roberson, Jeanie Holt, Suzy Sandall, Rhonda Baker, Sheri Ashall and Patty Crider. The girls were accompanied on the piano by Susan Beasley and directed by Mrs. Fran Holt. Certificates were awarded to the girls for their participation from Grand Guardian Rosella M. Petrich and Associate Grand Guardian Ladd J. Holub.

For the formal opening Queen Lea Ann Baker had the honor of escorting Martin Love, Grand Inner Guard to Illinois and past associate guardian of Bethel 43. Participating in the flag ceremony were Jeanie Holt, guide and Suzy Sandall, marshal of Bethel 43.

The following day a Grand Representative "eye opener" breakfast was served to the grand representatives with Rhonda Baker, grand representative to California, Bethel 1-182 and treasurer of Bethel 43 attending the early event.

"Lollipop and Roses" luncheon honoring queens and junior past queens 1979-80 was held at noon with Lea Ann Baker; her mother, Mrs. Delora Baker; Junior past honored queen, Gena Fox and her mother, Mrs. Beth Fox attending. The two queens served their station during the time of Grand Guardian Rosella Petrich and Associate Grand Guardian Ladd Holub, 1979-80.

"Kermits Kuties Princesses" luncheon was held at noon for the princesses of Job's Daughters with Senior Princess Kathy Brozman and Junior Princess Teri Roberson attending. The two princesses will be serving as queens with the present Grand Guardian June Smock and Associate Grand Guardian Ron Erickson, 1980-81.

"Garden of Roses Banquet" was held Friday evening for everyone at session. Address of welcome was presented by Queen Lea Ann Baker. Presentation of awards were given after the banquet with Granite City coming in third place in state competition. A third place trophy and an "eight" pound candy bar was accepted by Lea Ann for Bethel 43.

Caricatures of Grand Guardian Rosella Petrich and Associate Grand Guardian Ladd Holub were presented and drawn by Associate Bethel Guardian Ralph W. Baker, Bethel 43. "Horseshoe Luncheon" honoring Job's Daughters of Illinois was held Saturday with awards being presented. Rhonda Baker received a second place trophy in state competition with her Grand Representative to California banner.

Participating in the living crosses were Queen Lea Ann Baker, Junior Past Queen Gena Fox, Kathy Brozman, senior princess and Teri Roberson, junior princess. July 6 will be Granite City's official visit with the grand officers and to honor Martin Love, vice associate grand guardian; Laura Gantt, grand representative to Arizona; Teri Roberson, Grand Bethel fifth messenger and Gena Fox, Grand Bethel choir.

The next grand session is scheduled to be held April 23-26, in Peoria, Ill., at the Conrad Regency.

REV. AND MRS. BENJAMIN CARRIGHT, who exchanged wedding vows March 15 at Calvary Pentecostal Assembly of God Church. The bride, the former Miss Dana Barnes, is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Winfred Barnes of Granite City.

Dana Barnes marries Benjamin Cartright

Calvary Pentecostal Assembly of God Church was the setting for the March 15 wedding of Dana Lynn Barnes, 1150 Rhodes St. The groom is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Arlie Cartright of Paris, Ill.

The groom's father, pastor of Trinity Pentecostal Church of God in Paris, performed the double ring ceremony at 1 p.m.

Other clergymen assisting were Rev. C.M. O'Guin and Rev. William Stephens, the grandfather of the groom. The Stephens Trio, comprising of Ed Stephens, Connie Stodden and Patty Smith, sang "Over in the Gloryland" and "Wait Till You See My Brand New Home." The groom sang "Song of Love" to his bride.

The bride appeared in a white gown designed with a bouffant skirt trimmed in lace. The tapered sleeves were of lace, as was the fitted bodice. She wore a chapel length veil attached to a blue velvet lace-trimmed bow. Her flowers were a bouquet of white carnations and roses over a bible.

Tonya and Tanya Mann, twin nieces of the bride, carried the bride's train. Maid of honor Donna Stufflebean chose a lavender full length gown and matching hat. She carried a bouquet of lavender roses and baby's breath.

Shower fetes bride-elect

A May bride-elect, Miss Sandra Angle, was honored at a pre wedding shower given last week by Mrs. Mildred Adams, her future mother-in-law.

The wedding colors of pink and white were used in all table appointments and other decorations.

Games were directed by the hostess who later presented prizes to the winners. After the guest of honor opened, her gifts, refreshments consisting of cake, punch and coffee were served.

Those attending were Miss Angle's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Grace Young, her stepmother, Mrs. Wanda Angle and sisters Lisa and Cindy Brazzell and children. Also Doris Kaiser, Karen Hare, Molly Falcatelli, Pauline Rogers, Sandy Adams, Madie Penrod, Ruth Snyder, Darlene Snyder, Karen Wilson, Tammy Young, Mary Hancock, Joyce Dilady, Mrs. Pina Bailey, Sharon Kobensky, Janice Johnston and daughter Melissa, Patricia Hayes, Virginia Pruitt and daughter Sylvia and grand-son Darrel.

The honoree and Randall Adams will be united in marriage on May 24 at the Word of Life Tabernacle by the Rev. Henry Crippen.

Need anti-recession action regarding Japanese cars

World trade is being hailed with a variety of observances this spring, including an industry and business exposition Wednesday and Thursday at the Cervantes Convention Center in St. Louis. But the general subject of world trade is leaving a bad taste in the mouths of many Quad-Cityans and Americans due to job losses.

Solutions must be found, and quickly. Sales of new American-made passenger autos dropped 38.8 percent in the final ten days of April (193,370 in nine selling days vs. 260,911 in eight).

Total U.S. car sales in April, normally the industry's best sales month, were 540,880, down 30.9 percent from April 1979. April foreign car sales reached 203,000 or a record 27.3 percent of all auto sales occurring in the U.S.

European cars have seen their slice of the American market shrink from 11.7 percent in 1970 to 9 percent in 1975 and 5.1 percent last year, with 5 percent projected for this year.

But Japanese autos have gained an enormous foothold, from 3.5 percent of the market in 1970 to 9 percent in 1975, 16.6 percent in 1979 and an expected 20 percent for all of 1980.

A Ford Motor Company analyst commented this month, "This country is to be blamed for not anticipating the onslaught of Japanese cars and for not doing something to protect its own automakers from them. Every other major outlet in the world for Japanese cars saw them coming long ago and took steps to restrict sales of these cars to protect their own auto industries."

The United States, the world's largest single auto market, has placed only a 2.9 percent tariff and no other restrictions on imported cars.

Japan pays its auto workers only about half of what Americans receive. It charges its citizens a 15 to 20 percent tax on cars that, in effect, allows it to sell cars cheaper in the U.S.

And the yen has fallen in relation to the dollar, making Japanese autos correspondingly cheaper.

Another auto industry authority says, "Sales of Japanese cars may start falling. But 20 years of bad trade rules concerning foreign cars have seriously damaged the U.S. auto industry; now, this industry is damaging the total U.S. economy."

"The irony is that the economy may sink so low it will damage the imports that largely created this mess. We've come full circle."

This year may be one of the worst in a long time for the domestic auto industry—only 7,350,000 cars vs. 2,450,000 imports. And more recession years may follow if the Japanese car situation continues.

A partial remedy may occur if a Datsun assembly plant is built in the U.S., possibly here. But production is several years away, and the plant will make trucks, not autos.

It seems obvious that Uncle Sam needs to come to grips with the issue this year, and the sooner the better.

Public hearing here tomorrow on bus fare increase

Because far-reaching bus system financing decisions will be made this spring and summer, it will be important that residents attend a series of bus fare hearings scheduled for 7 p.m. this week.

The local hearing is set for tomorrow at the Granite City Township Building, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue. Other Illinois locations include East St. Louis High School on Tuesday, Anchor Savings, 620 E. and St. Alton, on Thursday and the St. Clair County Building board room in Belleville on Friday.

Individuals will be allowed five minutes for initial comments; after everyone who wants to be heard has spoken, those with more to say will be permitted to finish their remarks. A Bi-State Development Agency staff member will receive complaints or recommendations, and others will be present to answer questions. The agency wants to double the basic fare from 25 to 50 cents. It also plans to simplify procedures and eliminate 10-cent zone charges, aiding many Illinoisans.

A 75-cent commuter fare is planned for express and rapid bus lines. The fare for elderly and handicapped persons may rise to 50 cents from 15 cents in rush hours and to 25 from 10 cents in off-peak times.

The cost for special service lines is to increase to $1.50 from 50 or 75 cents, and the present $3.50 weekly pass is likely to be replaced by three passes, a $7 weekly pass for local bus lines and a $7.50 weekly or $32 monthly pass for express, rapid and park-ride lines.

The agency notes that the cost of living has nearly doubled since it last changed the bus fare structure in 1975.

Sentenced in restraint case

David A. Weber, 19, Fairmont City, was sentenced in Madison County Circuit Court Friday to serve 18 months of probation including 180 days in the Madison County Jail after he pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of unlawful restraint.

He had been charged with rape in the attack of a 17-year-old Collinsville girl Sept. 25 after she accepted a ride with him.

The case became controversial when it was revealed that Weber's attorney met with the victim's father, in the presence of an assistant county state's attorney, and negotiated a $2,000 payment to the victim's family.

At Friday's hearing, State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron and the defense attorney, Joseph Brown, explained the issue to Associate Judge John W. Day, saying the cash payment was part of a civil settlement, unrelated to the criminal case.

Judge Day said, "The court has no intention of dignifying the settlement by calling it restitution."

Weber was allowed to plead guilty to the lesser charge and the victim testified Friday that she did not want Weber to get a long sentence. Due to what Judge Day called "the generous attitude of the victim," he gave Weber a sentence far short of the maximum sentence, which is three years in prison.

He also ordered that the first 90 days and the last 90 days of the probation period be spent in the county jail and ruled that Weber must receive psychiatric help.

Hurt on Route 3

Mrs. Agnes Thompson, 66, Alton, was injured when her car turned from the southbound lanes of Route 3 left onto West 20th Street and collided with a northbound state Department of Transportation pickup truck, driven by Jimmy Simmons, 1962 Joy Ave., at 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

A traffic light standard was knocked down during the accident. Police alleged finding an open half pint of liquor in her car.

She was issued tickets alleging failure to yield the right-of-way and illegal transportation of alcohol and was taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where she was admitted with pain to her head, back and ribs.

planned for the complex. He was never able to build the theater, sewage treatment plant or other facilities planned for the complex and lost about $1,176,000 in profit he could have gained, he testified.

He estimated Gaslight Walk Apartments would have cost $4,704,000 in 1969 to complete and would have been worth $5,880,000 on the market.

A 1,100 seat theater in the Gaslight Walk Shopping Center, for which Arthur Enterprises had already signed a long-term lease, was to have been built for about $600,000 and would have been worth $720,000 when completed, costing Green another $120,000 in profit, he estimated.

A proposed mobile home retirement community he was going to build in Staunton and that he planned to call Lake of the Seven Fingers cost him about $328,000 when his credit was halted and he was unable to build it, despite his initial investments in the property and work, he testified.

The lake development could have been built for $2,112,000 and would have been worth $2,640,000 when completed, Green testified. He already had completed an 18-hole lighted golf course at the site; and a restaurant, two swimming pools, a motel, two homes and a replica of the Golden Gate bridge had been completed there, he said.

The mobile home area, which would have cost $225,000, could not be completed due to financing problems, Green said. Neither could a mobile home sales business, quick shops and other facilities for the development, he added.

Plans to build 40 four-family residential buildings (apartment houses) at Arlington Heights, near the Arlington golf course, fell through, he testified, because of financial problems. He said he already had put in the streets for the development, just west of Route 111.

He estimated the 43 homes would have cost $688,000 to build and would have sold for $866,000, which could have resulted in a $177,000 profit if financing had not stopped.

He also was working on the Chateau de Fleurs apartment complex in Bethalto and planned to spend about $1,920,000 to build the apartments; if they sold for $2,400,000, as he estimated they would have at that time, he would have made a $480,000 profit, Green testified. Five four-family buildings were constructed in the Bethalto development, but seven lots had to be left undeveloped, he added.

Also planned was a Chateau Shopping Center near the apartments which would have cost $1,425,000 to build and which would have been worth $1,900,000, resulting in a $475,000 profit for Green, he testified.

During Thursday's testimony,

Auto burns, charge owner

Jimmy R. McClanahan, 24, of 2722 Harding Blvd., was charged with obstructing justice and driving while his license was revoked after he left his car burning outside Victor's Tavern, West 20th Street and the railroad tracks, at 4:15 p.m. Saturday.

Witnesses said a man walked from the burning car into the tavern, but two Granite City emergency medical technicians paramedics will speak on their work, answer questions and demonstrate equipment—the first in the city's planned series on the work of local governmental officials and employees.

The Wilson PTA has been offered $25 reward for information leading to the arrest of the person who stole two stereo speakers, a recorder and two headphones attached, a flashlight and a public address system in a burglary at the school last week.

U.S. District Judge Charles P. Richey last week denied a motion by railroad and environmental interests for an injunction against work going forward on replacement of Lock and Dam 26.

Producer prices for finished goods rose 0.5 percent in April, the smallest increase since May 1979. Retail sales fell 1.2 percent.

Illinois Corrections Director Gayle Franzen says he will stop using state airplanes for out-of-state trips. He skipped most of a hostage seminar held in Florida and used $1,700 in money on a state plane to fly him and two others back to Illinois. Other trips have been described as involving visits to prisons, but some were to areas lacking prisons, records show.

About 25,000 paraded in Chicago on Saturday urging Illinois ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment. A House vote is expected this week.

Area residents will rally at Springfield tomorrow against a scheduled June 1 expiration of federal funding of food stamps for the 1979-80 fiscal year.

Average worker compensation costs for small Illinois businesses have risen 171 percent since 1975 and unemployment insurance costs have climbed 257 percent.

Mrs. Phyllis Schaffly of Alton was among those chosen at Springfield Saturday as an alternate at-large delegate to the 1980 Republican national convention.

Fire on Cayuga
Fire at 2:30 p.m. Saturday caused an estimated $300 damage to the carport storage shed and auto of Ogle Smith, 2613 Cayuga St. Smith said he was burning trash in a trash pit when the wind blew burning paper into the carport. It caught on the outside wall of the storage shed on fire and the flames spread to the front of Smith's car in the carport. Smith had the fire extinguished with a garden hose by the time firemen arrived.

FIREBOMB GARAGE
A firebomb was thrown against the garage at the home of Wesley Sparks, 2613 E. 24th St. at 3:10 a.m. today, but burned itself out, causing only minor damage. Firemen recovered a soft drink bottle which appeared to have been filled with gasoline and had a lit fuse when it was thrown. The fire was out by the time firemen arrived.

Green trial

Assistant Madison County Assistant State's Attorney Robert Trone was called to the witness stand by Carr and Trone denied that he had given the two reporters, Joseph Melosi or William Lhotka, any direct information about alleged syndicate money in Piasa Federal Savings & Loan.

However, he recalled meeting with the reporters in his office on several occasions and being questioned about any organized crime investigations underway.

Former Capt. Dennis Nicholas of the Madison County Sheriff's department was present during some of the meetings and Trone said Mr. Nicholas testified that he had questioned the lending practices of Piasa to persons such as Don Hazel, who was alleged to have "connections."

William Cox, attorney for the Telegraph, contended that a Granite City contract named in Melosi's memo as being angry over Piasa favoring Green and Hazel for loans, actually was Mr. Nicholas' father-in-law, the late Charles Lybarger.

Carr, who has expressed frustration during the trial over an inability to talk to witnesses, responded, "Oh, another dead witness."

Other deceased persons who have been quoted include Capt. Nicholas and former Sheriff Barney Fraundorf.

Testimony by two former Alton Telegraph newspaper reporters dominated last week, the second week of the $15 million libel trial of Jim Carr vs. the Telegraph.

Circuit Judge Charles Chapman is presiding at the trial in the City Hall of Granite City.

During testimony Wednesday, Joseph Melosi, one of the two former Telegraph reporters being sued by Green, said he had "forgotten, on purpose," the name of one of his informants who gave him information leading to the sending of a memo to the U.S. Justice Department in Washington, D.C.

Reid Carr, attorney for Green, is alleging that the memo, which painted Green as having connections with a crime syndicate, was ultimately responsible for Green's credit being cut off by the former Piasa Federal Savings and Loan Association in Alton and in Green's two successful construction companies failing financially.

Among the contents of the Memo, Carr said last week, was the contention that Green had connections in 1969 with a known Mafia figure and that Mafia money was being channeled to Green's construction company through Piasa.

The memo also contended that other contractors were "bribe" by favoritism shown to Green and Don Hazel by Piasa, Carr noted.

He asked Melosi what contractors told him they were upset over Piasa loaning money to Green. Melosi said he and William Lhotka, the other former Telegraph reporter being sued, came to Granite City and talked to one contractor after another.

"I don't remember his name," Melosi told Carr yesterday, then he added, "I forgot it on purpose."

Carr responded angrily, "You wiped from your mind one man who could come into this court and tell us Joe Melosi is lying?" He then asked Melosi how it is possible to intentionally forget someone's name.

Asked if he often forgot things intentionally, Melosi responded, "If I think somebody is in danger." His response was cut off by an objection, but he later added, "I have that facility."

He also said he did not recall where the contractor's office was in Granite City and had made no attempt to locate the office or recall the contractor's name since the suit was filed.

Lhotka's testimony about the visit to the contractor differed from Melosi's. Lhotka said Tuesday he remembered asking the contractor how he felt about the Jim Green financing and stated the contractor refused to talk about it and "acted afraid."

Lhotka recalled the contractor saying something about not wanting to get involved in it. When asked by Carr, "Did you deliberately forget his name?" Lhotka responded, "No, sir."

Both Lhotka and Melosi said the information in the memo they sent the Justice Department was primarily from two deceased officials of the Madison County Sheriff's Department, the late Sheriff Barney Fraundorf and the late Capt. Dennis Nicholas.

New steel production records set

Granite City Steel has announced the setting of new production records on its 80-inch hot strip mill. Two of them were set on May 7, when total tons for a 24-hour period and net operating rate for a 24-hour period were higher than ever before in GC Steel history.

The mill rolled 14,027 tons of steel coils, beating the March 6, 1980, record of 14,005 tons. The rate of 594.5 tons per hour topped the March 6 record of 583.5 tons per hour.

During the week of April 27, a new 10-turn record was set on the hot strip mill. Two were rolled. This broke the old record of 39,733 tons set in the week starting March 16, 1980.

Commenting on the achievements, GC Steel President James V. Stack said, "One hot mill's performance in setting new records was tremendous."

"It's especially important in these times of low orders that we put out our best effort to get steel to customers quickly, yet with good quality. I hope other departments will follow the example set by the hot strip people."

THEBEAU COMPLETES AVIONICS TRAINING
Navy Airman Robert A. Thebeau, son of Robert F. and Wanda M. Thebeau, 2227 Delmar Ave., Granite City, has completed the basic avionics aviation electronics technician course.

During the 15-week course at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Millington, Tenn., he received instruction on the fundamentals of electronic circuitry and was introduced to the variety of electronic equipment items currently being used aboard Navy and Marine Corps aircraft.

He studied airborne radar, communication and communication equipment, electronic technicians' manuals, safety precautions and trouble shooting procedures used for maintaining such equipment.

Thebeau joined the Navy in June 1978.

the document, they agreed, came from Assistant State's Attorney Robert Trone, who is scheduled to appear at the trial.

Carr contended Lhotka made no mention of Trone during his deposition six years ago, even though he was asked to reveal all of the sources of the information in the memo.

Carr also said that in his conversations with Mr. Nicholas on alleged Mafia money being put into one savings and loan association in Alton for certain contractors, Mr. Nicholas refused to state which contractors were involved.

"When I said Piasa, he never mentioned Piasa by name," Lhotka recalled.

Other witnesses last week included Robert Degrand, a former vice-president of Piasa, who testified that rumors of Mafia money coming into Piasa and a subsequent investigation by officials of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board caused the Piasa board of directors to begin to lose faith in him and that he then resigned.

Degrad said he was not aware of the memo to the Justice Department until after he had resigned from Piasa. However, he did know when he was vice-president that examiners were searching for evidence of Mafia money being poured into Piasa, he said.

He denied there had ever been any contact with a representative of the Mafia and said he knew nothing about any syndicate money in Piasa.

Other witnesses this week included Darrell Layman and Don Flack, officers of Green's companies, Jim Green Construction Co. and Green Highlights Associates. They testified on bookkeeping and borrowing procedures.

Wednesday's testimony concluded with the reading of a deposition by the attorneys. The first was the deposition of Bryan Conboy of the U.S. Justice Department and the other was from David Martin, Conboy's assistant.

EDWARDSVILLE — They finally did it. And they did it when it counted.

The Granite City South boys track team finally caught up with rival Cahokia here Friday. And the reward was the Gateway East Conference championship. South edged favored Cahokia 66-63 at SIU-Edwardsville's Cougar Field to win the loop crown.

Next in line was Granite City North in third place with 57 points, followed by Edwardsville with 50, and Belleville Althoff with seven. The victory was a sweet one for South's first-year coach Mel Bunting. "The guys just turned in a super effort," he said. "They've kept coming at them (Cahokia) all season. They finally caught them."

Toward the end of the meet, Bunting wasn't exactly sure whether or not his team would be able to eek out the victory. With only the triple jump remaining to be completed, the public address announcer said that Granite South led Cahokia by only three points, 75-72. The meet was as good as in Cahokia's back pocket. The Comanches' triple jumper, Al Hibbler, had no jumper from South to compete against him. If he did well, Cahokia would probably win the meet and the conference title.

Before Hibbler could get underway, however, an announcement over the P.A. system would make it all academic. There had been a mistake in the point totals. South still led, but by 10½ points. The results of the discus, won by South's Mike Konzen, had not been included.

When I heard those first totals, I knew we were beat," said Bunting. "I knew it was going to be close. But if we had only a slim lead on them (Cahokia) going into the triple jump, Cahokia would win it."

But Cahokia coach Greg Crockett said he knew the point totals were wrong. "I kept a running score during the meet," he said. "There was no way the score was that close. There were some events I thought we'd win that we didn't. If we had, it would have been different."

Granite City South's Steve Adams supplied one of the most outstanding performances of the meet. He was a triple winner—the hard way. He won his specialty—the pole vault—easily. He also won the 300 meter low hurdles and ran a leg on South's first-place squad in the mile relay.

But Adams' biggest win was the 100 meter dash, where he beat favored Andrew Gilmore of Cahokia. Adams had a time of 11.26 seconds, compared to Gilmore's 11.40. Granite North's Kevin Buchanan was fifth in 11.70.

But Adams wasn't the only Granite Cityan to turn in a premier performance. There were three double-winners from Steel City.

Granite City North's Mike York won both the high jump and the long jump. His height in the high jump was 6-4, while his leap in the long jump measured 20'4½."

South heavyweight Mike Konzen won both of his specialties, the shot put and the discus. His distance in the shot was 15.16 meters. His toss of the discus was 44.02 meters.

Warrior Dave Houston could be peaking at the right time. With the district meets just around the corner, he

Lady Cougars finish second in regional tournament

EDWARDSVILLE —

Finally, it was over. After an eight-week, fifty-game schedule, the women's softball team from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville had finished the MAIAA Division II Regional Tournament in second place. Even though the Cougars still had a chance at an at-large bid for the National Tournament in Sacramento, Calif., they were too concerned with their 3-1 loss to Ferris State College (Mich.) in the championship game.

The loss wasn't the first time Ferris set SIUE back. Ferris defeated the Cougars 1-0 in a preliminary game to put them into the "loser's bracket." So, the host team started a steady climb back to the top.

In the second meeting of the two teams, Ferris took a 1-0 lead in the top of the third inning. Leanne Manoski hit a fly ball to center field and Dee Schmidt, who singled, stole second and advanced on another single, tagged up and came home.

Then SIUE came up to bat in the bottom of the third. Right fielder Maggie Dyer, who was instrumental in the Cougar's 4-1 win over top seed Grand Valley State College earlier in the day, tripled. She crossed home on a single by Tammy Rainwater.

But Ferris had a big sixth inning. Patty Silye and Deb Bolinger were both walked. All it took was a triple by Lisa Lovato for Ferris to take the lead and the game. The Cougars just couldn't get the spirit back to win the game.

Becky Saylor of Wood River pitched four of SIUE's five games in the tournament. The right hander with the incredible rise ball finished the season with a 21-12 record. But that didn't matter as she wiped away tears with her teammates after the game.

Earlier the same day SIUE met Grand Valley after a two hour rain delay. Dyer had a double in the second for three RBIs and a double in the fourth for one RBI, to claim all four in the 4-1 win.

To get to second place the Cougars started by defeating the University of Akron, 8-0, in the first round. Frey had a triple in that game and Patty Sussen hit a three RBI double.

Then came the first loss to Ferris. Despite a triple by Frey in the sixth, the Cougars couldn't generate the hits to bring her home.

SIUE sent the University of Charleston (W.Va.) home after a 10-1 loss in the third round. Sussen and Frey both had triples in the game. Sussen brought in three RBIs and Frey added two. Denise Schaack went three for four with singles each time she hit and ended with two RBIs.

Before the final two games, the Cougars passed Eastern Illinois University, 4-1. SIUE took a first inning lead after Cindy Rakers and Cathy Biondo were walked and Frey tripled. In Rainwater scored the final run in the seventh inning on a single by Frey.

After five games in the tournament, SIUE was drained not only physically, but mentally. "They're mentally fatigued," said Coach Cindy Jones, who looked a little tired herself. "It's hard to stay that high."

"But we've had a dandy season. They've played super, super ball," she said.

South downs North

By TOMSCHOCKER

For the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — The records spoke for themselves. Thursday marked a showdown between the two girls softball teams. Granite City South posted a 9-7 record while a struggling Granite City North balled with an 0-11 ledger.

But as the year by year rivalry produced an almost always exciting and dramatic confrontation, South made its point clear. The trend was to change. At least in softball. The Warriors used the inexperience of North along with a 13 hit attack to romp over the Steelers 15-4 in a five inning affair at North field.

"There's not too much I can say," said Steele head coach Chuck Krause. "We played bad." Disappointment and frustration was noticeable from Krause throughout the contest. But at first the Steelers looked like they were going to give South a run for the money. The Warriors wasted no time, jumping on North's starting pitcher Adrienne Pumphrey for the hat in the first. In quick succession Ann Chepley, Natalie Bunter, Susan Jeffries, Betty Bulva and Karen Macios singled to give South an early 3-0 advantage. Macios and Bulva collected the RBI.

"I think they were a little nervous before the game," said Warrior head coach Pat Yates. "It was like first game jitters, but when they got those three runs they settled down."

Failing to be intimidated, North bounced back, much to the surprise of the Warriors starting pitcher Lisa Sarich. "She is our other pitcher on the team," said Yates. "It's good that she gets to pitch and obtains the experience. This is only her first year." North desperately tried to put a dent in the juniors confidence. Back-to-back singles from Phyllis Graham and Jill Bledsoe gave the Steelers a chance for the qualifier. However they could only manage a hot grounder from Tammy Hanfelder who reached first as the ball was bobbled. Edwardsville had finished the MAIAA Division II Regional Tournament in second place. Even though the Cougars still had a chance at an at-large bid for the National Tournament in Sacramento, Calif., they were too concerned with their 3-1 loss to Ferris State College (Mich.) in the championship game.

The loss wasn't the first time Ferris set SIUE back. Ferris defeated the Cougars 1-0 in a preliminary game to put them into the "loser's bracket." So, the host team started a steady climb back to the top.

In the second meeting of the two teams, Ferris took a 1-0 lead in the top of the third inning. Leanne Manoski hit a fly ball to center field and Dee Schmidt, who singled, stole second and advanced on another single, tagged up and came home.

Then SIUE came up to bat in the bottom of the third. Right fielder Maggie Dyer, who was instrumental in the Cougar's 4-1 win over top seed Grand Valley State College earlier in the day, tripled. She crossed home on a single by Tammy Rainwater.

But Ferris had a big sixth

Padgett signs with SIU-E

EDWARDSVILLE — Ron Padgett, a 6'7", 210-pound native of Belleville, has signed a letter of intent to enroll this fall at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, according to Cougar Cage Coach Jim Dudley.

The rugged, hard-working Padgett, who played his prep basketball at Belleville Althoff High School under Coach Al Poppe, starred the past two seasons for Belleville Area Community College.

As a freshman at BAC, Padgett helped pace the Dutchmen to a 28-9 record and helped them advance to the National Junior College finals. This past season, Padgett captained the Dutchmen and was their leading rebounder with nine per game. In that same period, he averaged 12.6 points per game and set the school's free throw percentage record of 376. Also, this past campaign, he was the sixth best rebounder in the Midwest Junior College Athletic Conference.

This past season, Padgett, as a member of the South squad, played in the Region IV JUCO All-Star game.

BAC Coach Jay Harrington, commenting on Padgett's junior college play, said, "He has literally improved with every game he played for me. He's an outstanding young man on and off the court. He should become a fine university basketball player."

Dudley said, "Ron is a very versatile player who will be used at a post and wing position in our offense. He has a very good shooting touch and a rugged rebounder. And, he's an excellent student, as well as a fine basketball player."

Orphans

ound and Kelly couldn't pitch well with it. Barnett, on the other hand liked it and besides he's a much better pitcher." That might have been an understatement from Smith.

Dawayne Barnett followed Kelly to the mound and for four innings threw a remarkable game. Until the seventh frame, he gave up two hits, both to Cope. The Warriors finally tagged him for a pair in the seventh.

John Linhart's RBI triple triggered the attack. But the damage had been done. "We kicked away a bunch of runs," said Champion, "and when we finally earned some runs, we were just too many behind to go over the top."

The Orphans got to starting pitcher Jodi Fenton in the third. Using the extra base hit, Centralia ripped three triples scoring four times and the score was tied.

Fenton existed and Walt Streicher came into the spot light. It didn't help though. The Orphans burned Streicher for a pair and went on to score two more times in each of the fifth and sixth innings. Tom McGowan, Darryl Harris, Pat Linhart and Rich Daily all followed their first two comrades to the mound in the next five innings. It didn't stop the Centralia bats.

The Warriors did have one last shot at making a stab at the lead. Led by Cope's RBI single after John Linhart's opening double, South pulled into a tie run contest 8-7.

Cope followed into the steps of Sykes, bunting out three hits while knocking in two runs. The final pitching change for Centralia did the trick. Reliever Jamie Kell sent the Warriors down in order. "It's hard to say," said Smith, "Barnett and Kell are really good. They are both my number one pitchers. I'm pretty satisfied with the game. It's the first time we have beaten a Granite City Team. I guess you have to consider yourself good when you beat a Bab Champion squad."

Warriors

1600 and 3200 meter runs. His time in the 1600 was 4:38.04, compared to Rick Lamb of Edwardsville's second place time of 4:41.10. Tim Dax of South ran third in 4:44.91. In the 3200, Houston had a time of 10:08.53. Lamb was second in 10:22.64. South's Taylor was third in 10:30.4. Bruce DeRuntz of North was fourth in 11:09.17.

"I think Houston's there," said Bunting. "He usually takes a while to come around, but he is definitely there now."

Bunting said he thinks much of his team's performance in due part to an intangible determination. "We just got a super effort from everybody," he said. "But a few of the guys in particular were just plain gutsy."

Perhaps a surprise even bigger than the Adams' performance in the 100 was the first place finish by the Warriors' mile relay team. Bunting made a few changes in the makeup of his squad for the event. The foursome of Adam, Drew Geisler, Scott Abbott and Dave Houston ran the event together for the first time ever and finished in a time of 3:32.39. Cahokia was second in 3:34.41. North was third in 3:40.55. "We put that group together just for this meet," said Bunting. "I was their first time. I figured it would come down to the mile relay. As it turned out, it did, but the triple jump just ran over."

Madison

seconds. Gloral McNeil of Madison was third in 26.9. In the 800 meter relay, Madison's time of 1:50.4 was good for second place.

Senior finished first in a time of 1:49.0, a district meet record. Madison's state-bound foursome also finished second in the 400 meter relay. Their time was 33.2 seconds, compared to Columbia's winning time of 31.5 seconds.

Traci Parker of Madison was fourth in the 400 meter run with a time of 64.1 seconds. Dawn Landgraf of Columbia was the winner in 61.1 seconds.

In the 800 meter run, Madison's Lisa Lovett was third in a time of 2:41.3. Cindy Mueller of Freeburg was the winner in a time of 2:28.9.

Steelers

But before West tuned up its bats, North had its say in the contest. Robertson picked up where he left off in the opener, by singling to begin the game. After stealing second, Ron Pinkston brought him home on a base hit. That was the last threat the Steelers was to produce.

From inning two it was all West. Taking advantage of three North miscues, the Maroons took the lead with a pair of tallies in the third. Adding two more in the following frame, West put North out of its misery, capitalizing on the sixth Steeler error. What was to be Dole's last inning of work. West scored four more runs.

VERY SPECIAL OLYMPICS. The Southwest Illinois Special Olympics were held at the SIU-Edwardsville track Saturday for area handicapped. This youngster makes a lonely turn during his wheelchair race event. Many handicapped athletes took part in the event. A rundown of finishers will appear in Thursday's Press-Record.
